Foreword

IT has been our ambition in compiling this Volume to record not only the activities of the Junior Class, but every phase of the college activities, laying proper emphasis on each department to show its continual growth; that it may serve as a souvenir of the college year for each and every student; that it may be a source from which the Alumni can keep in touch with their Alma Mater; that it may interest our friends and induce them to come and partake of the fountain of knowledge; that it may serve as the next link in the golden chain of these volumes in every library; that, finally, in the sincere striving for these ends it may perchance add a branch or two to our glory and to our Alma Mater, we do humbly present this, the

L'AGENDA 1917

ELMER SMITH PETTIT, to the memory of whom this book has been fondly dedicated by his classmates, died at the Williamsport Private Hospital on November eleventh last, the victim of a sudden attack of appendicitis. But nineteen years of age, he was a member of the Class of 1917, and was enrolled as a student in the Jurisprudence Course. His clean character, his manliness, his good nature and numerous other traits, which go so far toward making an almost perfect being, set him apart, as one of Bucknell's most popular and influential students. His death was a severe blow to the College.

Having prepared at Woodstown High School, Mr. Pettit entered Bucknell in the fall of 1913. During his freshman year he was actively engaged in all class activities and became a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. With the ability to put his whole heart in his work, Elmer made a success of his every undertaking, and would to quote the words of a professor, "undoubtedly have become a leader of his fellowmen." His last two years at college were characterized by honest endeavor and straightforwardness of purpose. As a member of the Track and Varsity Football squads, his sportsmanship and gameness were ever manifest; these sterling qualities made him a true friend and fellow student to us all.

He was laid to rest in the Friends Grounds near his home at Woodstown, N. J., after a short but rich young life.

David Porter Leas, A. M.

Late Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of Bucknell University

1882-1916

Died February 9, 1916

L'AGENDA 1917

David Porter Leas

WHEN the first hundred thousand dollar endowment was raised for our college, by William Shadrach, D.D., he visited a family in Shirleysburg, Pennsylvania, and secured from the head of the family a contribution, and with it the beginning of an important interest for the Institution. In the family was a lad, who afterwards, a youth of seventeen, entered the college as a Freshman and four years later graduated as Bachelor of Arts, in 1863. The youth's name was David Porter Leas, a name given to him because of the intimate friendship of his father with Porter, Governor of Pennsylvania. Others of the family followed the lead of young David to Lewisburg, Miss Mary G. Leas, now Mrs. K. Allen Lovell, graduated from the Institute in 1865; Miss Emily J. Leas, now Mrs. W. V. Emery, in 1866; Miss Belle C. Leas, now Mrs. John Dunn, Jr., in 1871, and Julia E. Leas, Mrs. Speer, in 1873. Hon. William B. Leas, the father, continued a staunch friend of the Institution and contributed to its funds and was till 1882, a member of the Board when he was succeeded by his son, Mr. David Porter Leas was thus a member of the Board from 1882 to the time of his death, 1916, nearly thirty-four years. During that time he missed only two or three meetings of the Board, and was always wise and conciliatory in his advice and action.

In 1882, Mr. Leas was elected Treasurer and served in that capacity till his death. The office of Treasurer is one of the most important in any Institution. No ability, learning and consecration in a faculty can overcome the disadvantage of badly managed finances. The case of the invested funds during the years of Mr. Leas' treasurership, and chiefly through him and Mr. Harry S. Hopper, chairman of the Board, was probably unsurpassed by any similar Institution in the country.

In 1890, Mr. Leas proposed to the president that he retire from the treasurership because of the mass of work connected with the current account, but was induced to continue by the President's taking upon himself the management of the current finance, and Mr. Leas retaining general oversight of it, and the entire charge of the endowment. While the raising of funds, the erection of buildings and the management of the current receipts and expenditures were given over to the President, yet no extraordinary expenditure was made without the advice of the Treasurer who also received and examined weekly statements of receipts and expenditures sent him by the Registrar to whom were entrusted the details of the business. For none of his services did Mr. Leas ever receive a penny of compensation from the Institution.

In raising funds for buildings and endowments, Mr. Leas was always one of the first to lead with a liberal pledge, and to help, if it were needed, in closing the subscription. The President makes it a rule in raising funds of any amount, to be assured where half of the amount proposed is coming from, before the enterprise is launched. Mr. Leas was always among those who definitely gave their adhesion and pledge to the proposed effort.

But Mr. Leas' interest was not confined to the financial interest of the Institution. After graduation from College, he took a course in Divinity at Rochester and spent one year in the Pastorate. Though called aside by the necessities of business and very successful in it he was always essentially a minister. In the College he took a great interest in the Christian Associations and contributed liberally to them. He was faithful and devoted to Christian work everywhere, both with gifts and service.

The greatest contribution, however, of David Porter Leas to the good of mankind was himself. He was keen and sound of judgment, tenacious of purpose and conciliatory of manner, and without the self-will so often characteristic of successful men—of the strictest integrity, of equable temperament, of simple faith, of kindly heart he was wherever he went a living Epistle known and read of all men—in whom they recognized lineaments of the Master.

Senior Class Poem

Senior year! What is its sign, what does it spell for us?
For us, who in a few short months
Shall leave our Alma Mater
And one by one go out in ways unknown,
It means, 'tis true, the loss of many friendships
And the going forth forever from the dear routine,
The joyous crowded days
When life seemed very full, and very, very good.

But is this all? O, no, it means far more.
It means the birth of visions full of power
And of work worth while,
The fighting of disease, and all its kindred ills.
The righting of the wrong,
Defence of honor, justice, law,
And great inventions in the realms of science, and art
The putting into beings of huge structures
On the land, and sea, and in the air.
The solving of big problems,
And a deeper love for beauty, truth and human worth.
A wide vision of the world, and of its peoples' needs,
And big ideals, attained, and passed along.

All this it means, our Senior Year.
And so the sad is mingled with the glad unknown,
And bright expectancy comes uppermost.

L'AGENDA 1917

History of the Class of 1916

IT IS not without some feeling of regret that we are called upon to write this last history of the class of nineteen-sixteen, here at Bucknell, and may this only be the beginning of our real history. As we leave here may we go out into this old world determined that the deeds of this class as those of others which have left Bucknell shall be written large on the pages of the world's history.

Only a few short years ago we arrived here eager to catch a new and broader view of life. This we have done and thanks be to those at whose feet we have sat and listened as they each endeavored to impart to us that which they had already learned from that faithful old teacher, Experience.

Our History tells of a time of development. From the time we first entered these classic old halls and allowed these spreading oaks to teach us the lessons of sturdiness in the face of storm, until now when the goal of our four-year's journey is in sight, we have grown both in body and in mind. Truly, we have drunk at the fountain of knowledge and now feel that we are trained to fight life's battles in a new light, ever striving to hold high above the din of battle the standards of our Alma Mater until that great day of victory.

Therefore with a determination to go out into life's struggle and to bear our share of the burden in performing the tasks that comfort this old world we bid to you old Bucknell our last and fond farewell.

Junior Class Poem

Explorers of the Light once came,
From places far and all around,
Upon a forest deep, unbound,
Where many lessons could be found
To gain the land of Joy and Fame;
The birds, the trees, the running streams,

The rocks and cliffs, and shining beams,

The flowers, leaves, and fancy dreams

Each had a class to teach and claim

In Science or Philosophy,

On man, or God, or 'ology,

On Nature, sky, or land and sea.

Two years have passed: to reach their aim

The wise explorers still plod on,
Their task they know is far from done,

Their goal they see is far from won;

So on and on, to their good name

They sing, as they do plod along,

A juniors' jolly, joyful, song:—

We are juniors, jolly juniors

Working on the world's wide way,

Toiling onward, ever onward,

Learning something new each day;

Hills and rocks so hard and steep,

Up life's path we slowly creep,

Hardly finding time to sleep,

Toiling onward, ever onward

Learning something new each day.

We are juniors, jolly juniors

Living life with joys galore,

Pulling those who follow after,

Pushing those who go before:

Giving more than e'er we take,

Living life for life's own sake,

'Always lively, wide awake,

Pulling those who follow after,

Pushing those who go before.

Be not weary jolly juniors

With but one year yet to go,

When the light that we are seeking

Is the light by which we sow;

When our lives we start with light,

And we work with all our might,

What we do is done just right,

Then the Light that we are seeking

Shall dispel our every woe.

L'AGENDA 1917

Junior Class History

One day in September dreary
Many Freshmen, scared and weary
Came to college, feeling weary
Wishing they were home once more.
But this feeling passed, they dearly
Loved their class, and saw quite clearly
Fifteen were not allies merely
In the name and nothing more.

Oh those days of our first September!
Juniors, do you still remember,
Our class-scrap, do you remember
Quoth the Juniors, "Evermore."
Though the Sophs were always boosters
When they put up all their posters
Our brave class pulled down those posters
All save one (?) and nothing more.

Nineteen Seventeen is growing
We shall always keep them going
And this is not merely "crowing"
Now we number several score.
As Sophomores our gentle tapping
Woke the Freshmen sweetly napping
In class next day our victims gapping
Thirty Freshmen—maybe more.

Here's to the Juniors loyal ever!
May their future days be never Dull or dreary till they sever
Seventeen for evermore!

MEREDITH LUFFBARY ABBOTT

GLASSBORO, N. J.

Glassboro High School; Kappa Sigma; Phi Delta Sigma; Assistant Manager Varsity Track Team; Secretary Chemical Society; L'Agenda Board; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Junior Smoker Committee; Junior "Prom." Committee; Chairman Junior Reception Committee; Chemical Engineering Course. "Med."

"Take and you will receive."

No matter what the subject under consideration may be, "Med" always has his little pun for it. In his first two years he was on a fair way to make himself famous as a chemical engineer, but lately owing to the fact, either, that he has worked out "Billie's" system, or that he just "Hadden" time, he has changed his course. It would never have been suspected that Abbott would turn out to be an inveterate fusser. But sad to say, this is a fact. His principle worry at the present time is, "How to get in more than one date a day."

MILES DOMER ACKERMAN

TURBOTVILLE

Bucknell Academy; Franklin and Marshall Academy; Sigma Chi; Freshman Declamation test; Law Club; L'Agenda Board; General Science Course. "Ack."

"That skull has a tongue in it and can talk."

At last we have found a new master of rhetoric. Talk about your control of the King's English. Well, he says: "That is what his course calls for and he is getting his money's worth." In the profusion and the floweriness of his speech, coupled to his wide range of subjects, he is beyond reproach. Just get him started if you don't believe it. We can see "Ack" out there in the distant future voicing his eloquence in a court of law. Domer says he may enter politics some day, and be elected a Justice-of-the-Peace in his native village, Turbotville.

EDWIN EWART AUBREY KINGSTON

Taunton College, England; Demosthenean, Ministerial Association; Sophomore Cotillion Committee; Freshman Declamation Contest; Junior Debate; State Intercollegiate Peace Contest; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Editor of Y. M. C. A. Handbook; Cap and Dagger; Literary Editor L'Agenda; Bucknellian Staff; Greek Philosophical Course. "The Englishman."

"He has a work, a purpose in life; he has found it and will follow it."

Cardiff, Wales, did not offer enough opportunities for Edwin's ambitious nature, and as a result he left the land of his birth to prepare himself for his life work on this side of the Atlantic. But choosing to enter Bucknell with the class of 1917, he showed good judgment from the very beginning. Since he has been with us, Aubrey has demonstrated his ability to do things and do them well. A congenial disposition and ready wit make Aubrey a desirable companion in college life.

W. ROY BAKER BLAIRSVILLE

Blairsville High School; Washington and Jefferson; Alpha Tau Omega; 'Varsity Football, 3; Art Course. "Bake," "Hobey."

"Hail, the conquering hero comes."

"Bake" entered our class just in time to get in the L'Agenda. He tells of his days at W. & J., but we know that he will be proud to be a graduate of Bucknell. "Hobey," because of his size and experience at once donned football togs and earned the position of right tackle on the 'Varsity. On the grid-iron Baker is a scrapper, but as a roommate "Frankie" says he is as gentle as a kitten. Well, farewell, "Hobey," we know that you will bring credit to Bucknell and 1917.

GEORGE BARNHART
SUNBURY

Baltimore Polytechnic Institute; Bucknell Academy; Chemical Engineering Society; Treasurer Bucknell Rifle Club; Chemical Engineering Course; Lambda Chi Alpha. "Barney."

"Silence is Golden."

"Barney" is one of those extraordinary Bucknellians who never talks unless he has something to say. He has, nevertheless, been elevated to the position of assistant chemist and is silently exulting over the perplexities that the decipherers of "unknowns" are facing. We feel that George is going to be a shining light for '17 for he is truly an ever "redy" chap, if you don't believe it, observe his auburn foliage. Then, too, he is a man of no mean experience; he has traveled as far as Sparrows Point, and every week he makes a trip to Sunbury.

RUTH PAULINE BARTHOLD
BETHLEHEM

Bethlehem High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 2, 3; L'Agenda Board; Delegate Y. W. C. A. Conference, 2; Prize Freshman Declamation Contest; Prize Sophomore Oratorical Contest; Assistant Editor Bucknell Women's College Journal; Classical Course. "Rufus."

"How doeth the busy little bee?"

"Sixty seconds make a minute," is Ruth's motto, and like the busy bee she "improves each shining hour." Her closest companion is the Greek book that she loves. Ruth has distinct literary talent, and she's not allowed to "hide her light under a bushel." Such a wee little girl and so much ability. "And still we gaze and still the wonder grows, how one small head can carry all she knows." We all know that Ruth is demure and sweet and yet that she can break college rules is shown by the fact that she carries five subjects though one is considered a minor—Petit.

L'AGENDA 1917

LOUISE ANTOINETTE BASSEL PHILIPPI, WEST VIRGINIA

Broadus Institute; Delta Delta Delta; Frill and Frown; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Latin Philosophical Course. "Loui," "Bass."

"Music has its charms."

Louise started her college career at Cornell, but while studying there she heard so much in praise of Bucknell that she decided to join our ranks. Immediately making herself one of us she became actively interested in Dramatics and Y. W. C. A. work, and although Louise is proficient and successful in both of these lines, music is her hobby and we find her a favorite accompanist. She also employs this art as an excuse to spend an hour in chapel with her "Cousin Russell" in whom she takes a great interest—she plays while he sings.

HAROLD AMOS BEERS WATERTOWN, CONN.

Watertown High School; Delta Theta Upsilon; Class Football, 1, 2; Varsity Football Scrubs, 1, 2; Electrical Engineering Society; Electrical Engineering Course. "Suds," "England," "Leo."

"Nobody loves a fat man."

Out from "Staid Old New England" with those characteristic traits came "Suds." "Sure!" This exclamation was the extent of "Leo's" vocabulary during the regime of the green button and was always accompanied by that smile in which one corner of his mouth refuses to curl. He offers a reward to anyone who detects him laughing aloud. Although a John Bull in physique and manners "England" appreciates a joke, either on himself or on the other fellow. His lusty crowing excites responses from all the cocks within a mile radius. In his initial year he took daily exercise on the gridiron, but the strenuous days of "Lindy's" Strength together with his obesity cut short athletic ambitions. After all is said and done "Suds" is a good fellow.

L'AGENDA 1917

GEORGE THOMAS BENDER
LEWISBURG

Lewisburg High School; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Law Club; Junior Exhibition; Jurisprudence Course. "Georgie."

"The dance is the thing."

Dance, dance, dance, and more dance! That is the history of "Georgie's" life. Not the "Georgie" in the Sunday Inquirer as may be inferred, but one of those fellows with a similar activity, and does the "tango" and "Dance of the Seven Veils" equally as graceful as Madame Parvola. "Georgie the musician" would also be a good title for this talented young man. Despite the artistic excellence of his piano performances, his friends at times would like to drift away in the distance as though it would lend enchantment to the sound. But with it all, George is an out and out good fellow, and well liked by all who know him.

FRED ELKANAH BENEDICT
CANTON

Canton High School; Lambda Chi Alpha; Mechanical Engineering Society; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Bennie."

"I must and will have Katherine to be my wife."—SHAKESPEARE.

Benedict is not yet quite all that the name implies, but if steadfastness and perseverance is of consequence Fred's friends are sure that they will soon see a full realization of the name's significance. "Bennie" claims that, like the Prophet of old, he is going to cleanse one of God's children of the life, long "Spotts." We wonder if he will be so unkind as to demand the seven dips. One thing, though, is bothering those who are interested: The dictionary defines benedick as "a newly married man"; riddle: How can Fred convert a Miss into a Benedic(t)k.

ARNOLD LEIGH BENTON BRADFORD

South Williamsport High School; Lambda Chi Alpha; Theta Delta Tau; Sophomore Cotillion Committee; Junior Prom. Committee; Junior Smoker Committee; Mechanical Engineering Society; Williamsport-Bucknell Club; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Birdie."

"Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud?"

"Never so much is lost but that a little is gained." When Bradford, Pa., lost "Birdie" Bucknell gained his presence, and never from that time until this had said presence been doubted by the inhabitants of the "Will." If perchance at any time that persistent personality should be allowed to sink into the field of unconsciousness one could rest assured that it would be most ungraciously recalled by a night excursion about the halls and quadrangle. "Birdie" fussed once in his Freshman year, and he says he spent a most delicious evening.

EUGENE PETER BERTIN SOUTH WILLIAMSPORT

South Williamsport High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Freshman Declamation Contest; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Prize Sophomore Oratory Contest; Bucknellian Staff, 3; Assistant Editor L'Agenda; Junior "Ex."; Class Football, 2; Assistant Librarian, 3; Cap and Dagger, 3; Law Club; Charter Member Rifle Club; Williamsport-Bucknell Club; Jurisprudence Course; Law; Journalism. "Gene," "Purity," "Bert," "Pete."

"Aren't you ever going to grow up?"

Kind nature seems to have been partial in blessing this youth with a disposition so good-natured and happy. His more serious element is so beautifully cloaked in frocks of golden brightness and set with gems of such smiling radiance and lustrous laughter that it is difficult to detect any such element at first—but the element of philosophic mentality occasionally crops out in an eloquent oration or poetic production that overflows with sentiment of impenetrable profundity. The inspiration which seems to give flame to the spark of ambition is his desire to become editor of some large current literary publication. Here's to you, "Purity," and we hope that "your good nature and your smile, will be with you every mile."

L'AGENDA 1917

PAUL WHEELER BOGCESS
PHILIPPI, VA.

Broadus Institute; Medical Society; Ministerial Association; Student Volunteer; General Science Course. "Parson," "The Hill Photographer."
"Jest not at a preacher's language or expression."

Behold, the man of many talents. Chief among these are "The Hill Photographer"; minister, doctor, missionary, and many others too numerous to mention. He appears to be a woman hater, but we are told that he accompanies a young lady from the Sem home to Phillipi at each vacation, and sometimes we see him "fussing." Although not many people know it, he is a fraternity man, as he was taken into the "Beta Sigma" in his Sophomore year. Although "Parson" only joined us in our Sophomore year, and him as we might, we do know that he will make a good missionary, which he has chosen as his life's work.

PETER PAUL BRANTLEY
SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

Troy Conference Academy; Mechanical Engineering Society; Assistant in Foundry; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Pete."

"Work is my recreation."

Brantley is the hardest working man in the class. He is also the oldest man in the class, but nevertheless is proud to belong to 1917. "Pete" spent his earlier years in a foundry, hence when he arrived here, he at once became an assistant in "Burpee's House of Misery." "Pete" has only one fault, and that is his mania for the movies. According to Brantley, "Most every night it's a wonderful sight" down at the Orpheum. Peter also likes solitaire, for he spends most of his time alone. We hope to hear of "Pete" in the future Mechanical Engineering world.

L'AGENDA 1917

FRED CHARLES BRENNER HOLLIDAYSBURG

Hollidaysburg High School; Kiskiminetas Springs;
Delta Phi Delta; Phi Kappa Psi; Varsity Baseball, 1, 2; Varsity Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Junior Prom.
Committee. "Fritz," "Herman."

Coming into our midst one fine September day in 1913, like Hercules, the Great, on his annual visit, came "Herman S. T. B." After gazing over our fair campus and thinking it just as good as any he has seen, he condescended to tarry with us for a time. Lo and behold, he did turn out to be a giant and a great help to our school. In Baseball and Basketball he is ever the right hand man and leads us on to many a victory. "Freddie" tried Shakespearian acting one year but dropped it. Truly, he is a very popular fellow and an unwilling heart smasher.

HELEN CHRISTINA BROWN MORRISTOWN, N. J.

Morristown High School; Pi Beta Phi; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Y. W. C. A. Convention Delegate, 2; Frill and Frown; Bucknell Operatic Society; Freshman Declamation Contest; General Science Course. "Brownie," "Peg."

"My he-"Art" is not here."

"Safety First," and that's a smile. "Brownie" carries it with her wherever she goes. "Laugh and the world laughs with you," is Helen's motto, and it surely works well. Our "Brownie" not only "shines" in the class room, but her dramatic ability is well known. She can imitate that hairy, chattering, quadruped of the long tail to perfection, or be an airy Japanese butterfly, without the least effort.

L'AGENDA 1917

MARY M. BUBB

DALMATIA

Dalmatia High School; Bucknell Institute; Fourth Year Essay Prize; Soiree; Latin Philosophical Course. "Leddie," "Bubbles."

"Good things come in small packages."

Here is embodied in one small lady, sympathy, grace, charm, personality, and versatility—especially the last. She even showed the dean that it was quite possible to entertain the crowd and be merry until 12 o'clock and appear the next morning with her German and Latin perfectly translated. Mary was one of the other girls who desired to see how Gettysburg compared with Bucknell in Scholarship ????? The rest of us certainly heard some thrilling tales.

FOUNTAIN BURLEW

MATAWAN, N. J.

Matawan High School; Delta Theta Upsilon; Class Track, 1; Medical Society; Biology Course. "Barney."

"Even in defeat he argues still."

Well, here is "Barney," one of the many who hear the annual call of Bucknell in Mosquito-land. Now, do not confuse the above Matawan with the notorious Harry K. Thaw episode. "Barney" wishes it to be distinctly understood that there is no connection whatever, either mentally or otherwise. "Barney" is prone to argue and even though his thoughts are not expressed with the greatest fluency, his reasoning is logical. "You're all wrong, for it's just like this!" This is his opening declaration and then—an exhaustive discussion ensues. Recently Fountain was mistaken for a Freshman, and it provoked him to the point of electing Sociology as a heavy upperclass subject. We feel that as an M.D. "Barney" will get there, just the same.

L'AGENDA 1917

CHARLES BUTCHINSKI NANTICOKE

Nanticoke High School; Electrical Engineering Society; Nanticoke-Bucknell Club; Class Football, 1, 2; Electrical Engineering Course. "Butch."

"Thou art a fellow of respect."

Butchinski! You're not supposed to pronounce it. You sneeze it. Here is another one of those Nanticoke mathematical and pinochle "sharks." He can also play football—SOME. He, too, is taking the Electrical Engineering Course, although we can not guess what Nanticoke is going to do with all of them. When not hard at work with his studies, "Butch" devotes his time to playing pinochle. He is considered one of the best players in West College. Well, "Butch," don't become a card sharp, but rather a sharp Engineer.

LEROY PIERRE CALKIN ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Atlantic City High School; Phi Kappa Psi; Sophomore Cotillion Committee; Glee Club, 2, 3; Gun Club, 3; Chemical Engineering Society; Chemical Engineering Course. "Calkie," "Larry."

"One among many."

In "Calkie" we find one of those good natured blondes, caused by a mixture of too much salt water taffy and the briny deep. He could not find means to carry out his ambitions to be a second Joseph Priestley in his own home town. So he came to us. It does not seem that his ambition was beyond him, for we find "Calkie" to be a hard worker and very successful in all his classes. Hence why try to predict an unsuccessful future for him. It would be impossible. Our only wish is that he can abide with us until his course is completed.

L'AGENDA 1917

JAMES ARLING CASE

BOONTON, N. J.

Boonton High School; Member Student Branch A. S. M. E.; Mechanical Engineering Society; L'Agenda Board; Sophomore Banquet Committee; Class Baseball, 2; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Jim."

"Know ye, character can be improved infinitely."

"Jim" came to us from Boonton, wherever that is, and gives as his reason that the drug stores are better here than in New Jersey. We can vouch for this fact, for you will generally find him at the drug store down town. We wonder what there is about a drug store that is so interesting to a Mechanical Engineer? But that's all right, for Case does not spend all of his time fussing for generally you can find him in his room studying or down at the gym playing basketball. Well, "Jim," we bid you good-bye, wishing you a long and prosperous life in your chosen profession.

GEORGE BECHT CHAMPION

MONTOURSVILLE

Williamsport High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Freshman Banquet Committee; Rifle Club; Chemical Engineering Society; Mandolin Club, 3; Chemical Engineering Course. "Champ," "Bunny," "Popularity," "Scoop, the Cub Reporter," "Wags."

"You stop, George, or I'll jump overboard."

Here is a wonder, if you talk of wonders, and a heart-breaking fusser, (who never breaks hearts.) He is classified with the genius FEMINAE AMORAE, and indeed, he is a typical example of that genius. At school he is a moderate student, somewhat of a mandolinist, a sort of society shark, and occasionally taking the role of a kind of news agent for the school. During his vacation he finds contentment in such natural sports as hunting, fishing, camping, canoeing, hiking, and the like. As a suitable life's work he has chosen the profession of Chemical Engineering, slightly inclined toward Agriculture, which is certain to gratify his egotistic desires and yield satisfaction, for it brings him close to nature.

L'AGENDA 1917

KATHERINE CLAYTON LEWISBURG

Bucknell Institute; Delta Phi; General Science Course. "Kit."

*"Some day you'll come back to me."
"The inquiries of Katherine."*

O kiddo are you going to-night?
What do you think you'll wear?
Will I come out in exams all right?
Who on earth will be there?

What sort of gink is he anyway?
How does he part his hair?
I'd rather go with Russ any day,
But what is the use to care.

MARGARET M. COLLINS LEWISBURG

Montoursville High School; Delta Delta Delta; C. E. A.; L'Agenda Board; Latin Philosophical Course. "Peg."

"Little! But, Oh my!"

She wants her "write up" done in rhyme;
Though we think it is an awful crime
To waste such very precious time,
On Peggy.

She's little and she's mighty wise;
She's such very dancing eyes;
Oh, she's a terror for her size,
Is Peggy.

And should you ask, "What can she do?"
Why, she's a game sport through and through.
She's versed in all things, old and new,
Our Peggy.

L'AGENDA 1917

JEANNETTE COOKE

HADDONFIELD, N. J.

Haddonfield High School; Pi Beta Phi; C. E. A.;
L'Agenda Board; General Science Course. "Jane."

"I have no other reason but a woman's reason."

And here is "Jane" of the irrepressible giggle. Although our "Jane" is quite a student she does not believe in "allowing her studies to interfere with her college education." During her Freshman year "Jane" was quite patriotic and especially interested in the "Army." Later her attentions were centered nearer home and she talked continually of her "Grandfather." But now, sad to relate, her heart has turned to "Stone."

VERA QUINDARE COUCH

AVONMORE

Avonmore High School; Elocution Contest; Latin Philosophical Course. "Vee."

"Modesty is the candle to your merit."

A quiet, unassuming, dark haired lass wends her way every morning from Wat-sontown to enter Bucknell's hall of Classic learning. That's Vera. She often trembles and sometimes even faints when she is to be called upon to recite—but she never fails! It has been rumored that next year Vera will live in Woman's College. We presume she will be through practicing elocution until that time.

L'AGENDA 1917

WILLIAM HARVEY CRAIGHEAD ELIZABETH

Elizabeth High School; McKeesport High School; Delta Theta Upsilon; Manager Class Baseball, 2; Sophomore Cotillion Committee; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Junior Prom. Committee; Class Treasurer, 3; General Science Course. "Bill."

"Silence is golden."

Craighead the ever-reticent one is a product of Western Pennsylvania to whom the characteristic saying, "I live near Pittsburg," is applicable. Despite his reluctance to say much, "Bill" always enters into his work or sport with a determination to win. He has represented the class on the diamond in class games and here "Silent Bill" has proved his worth in cutting down base hits and producing bingles. "Bill's" future hope of a profession and everything else seems to lie in the economic sphere, for he is striving to gain controlling stock in the Philadelphia and Reading, but especially the latter.

MAURICE HOWARD CRYDER TYRONE

"Man is not responsible for his sins."

To penetrate the deep reserved personality of this young genius is confronting an extremely difficult and arduous proposition. The following, however, seem to be his most predominant characteristics: First of all, a student, almost exclusively Chemical; then a physical perfection, brought about by the regular and diligent use of his five pound dumb-bells and Indian war clubs; thirdly, a musician, one whose luscious strains, dulcetly picked on a melodious mandolin would arouse the dead, charm the birds, and entice the students of the neighboring dormitories. But, this is not all, the wherewithal of this musical excellence can be ascribed to no other source than an inward stimulus or inspiration, and this brings "The woman in the case."

L'AGENDA 1917

RALPH BECKER DERR
MILTON

Milton High School; Chemical Engineering Society;
Chemical Engineering Course. "Mr. D."

"He is a scholar and a ripe and good one."

"Who is that tall, good-looking fellow, who hangs around the Chemistry Lab?" Being asked this by a Semite we immediately answered, "Oh, that's Derr, and he lives in Milton." Yes, Derr lives in Milton and commutes every morning and evening. Why don't you spend the night with us, Ralph? We can understand why you went home your Freshman year, but we cannot now. Ralph is a hard working Chemical Engineer, and if his industry here can be taken as an indication of his future success we are sure that he will not be long in attaining it.

JOSEPH JAMES DIRZULAITIS
MOUNT CARMEL

Momnt Carmel High School; Civil Engineering Society; Class Baseball, 1; Civil Engineering Course. "Joe," "Durzy."

"Good goods come in small packages."

Brrrrrrr! Crash! Bang! No, 'tis not a railroad wreck, nor a thunder storm, but just "Durzy" arguing with the rest of the Mt. Carmelites. Notwithstanding the fact that "Joe" comes from Mt. Carmel, he is a good fellow. "Joe" has only one bad fault that is: He very often goes home over the week-end,—we don't know why (?)—and does not get back in time for Lindy's 8:15 on Monday. Nevertheless, we feel that Mt. Carmel is going to have, in the near future, a Civil Engineer who will make it and Bucknell famous.

L'AGENDA 1917

ADRIAN JAMES DOLPHIN

HARRISON, N. J.

Kearney High School; Lehigh Sigma Nu; Civil Engineering Society; Varsity Track, 2; Class Track, 2; Civil Engineering Course. "Dolph."

"A finished gentleman from top to toe."

The Beauty Show judges sent "Tony" Murray, our class president, the following telegram: We, the judges of the best looking man in the class of 1917, do hereby award to A. J. Dolphin, that honor. Because "Dolph" is good looking it must not be thought that he spends all his time dancing and fussing, for he is quite a pole vaulter. He has not, as yet, won his B, but we expect him to do so before he graduates. Adrian is also a chauffeur—that is he drives a car for pleasure. Dolphin started in the Mechanical Engineering Course, but he prefers "Lindy" for he claims that he won't have so much to do in his course.

ROBERT DONALDSON

DUBOIS

DuBois High School; Civil Engineering Society; Banquet Toast, 1, 2; Scrubs, 1, 2, 3; Class Football, 1, 2, 3; Captain Class Football, 2; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Track, 1, 2; Civil Engineering Course. "Bob," "Bluebeard."

"Beneath his ragged coat he has a heart of gold."

Behold the modern "Bluebeard." Also the woman hater of our class. Here we have the man who boasts of the fact that before coming to college he wore a stiff collar only once. "Bob" earned the name of "Bluebeard" because of the enormous growth of whiskers he is capable of producing. "Blue's" major courses are: Playing pinochle, playing football and telling stories, of which he has a great store. However, "Bob" is quite a mathematical shark, and we predict that he will make quite a success as a Civil Engineer, especially in the mining work, as he spends his summer vacations working in the soft coal mines of DuBois.

L'AGENDA 1917

ANNA EMELINE DOWNING
WEST NANTICOKE

Nanticoke High School; Latin Philosophical Course;
Nanticoke-Bucknell Club. "Emmy."

"Serenely and resolute and still and calm and self-possessed."

Who said "noise." Well, quite the opposite for Anna, for Anna is one of the quiet girls of the class. That Anna thoroughly believes that "silence is golden" has been impressed upon us all, for we seldom get more than a smile from Anna. To a good measure of quietness we must add a small quantity of modesty and garnish the whole with a smile and we have Anna. Sometimes this quiet maid creeps out of her shell and that is, when she visits third floor main.

These last few weeks she has become more reserved than ever, since there is something which she wishes not to appear in the L'Agenda, and in this she has succeeded for that something has remained a mystery.

DONALD ROSS DUNKLE
LEWISBURG

Bucknell Academy; Sigma Chi; Theta Delta Tau; Phi Delta Sigma; Freshman Banquet Toast; Glee Club, I; Civil Engineering Course. "Dunk," "Sl."

"Each day brings its new and unfolding mystery."

There are living men whose keen appreciation of things make them the envy of other less fortunate beings. "Dunk" is surely one of the appreciative "set." He sees things to marvel at even in the commonplace stones by the wayside. "Isn't that wonderful," is a common expression of his which one may hear at almost any time and place. "Dunk's" innate sense of wonderment and the pleasures which he finds in life's little commonplaces makes him a truly enjoyable fellow. Ever and anon "Dunk" may be seen watching some of the other Junior Civils busily laboring, and he always marvels at their cleverness and wonders how they do it.

L'AGENDA 1917

ALFRED ALLYN EARLE LEWISBURG

Bucknell Academy; Forum; Bucknell, 1; Tulane University, N. O., La.; Latin Philosophical Course. "Cigarette."

"Work until the smoke flies."

This grave Junior has returned to the Bucknell fold after an absence of many years. In the shining war times of '98 he answered the call for volunteers and enlisted to fight the Spaniards. This and other perplexing matters such as matrimony, trying ranch life in Texas, and being president of Leland University, New Orleans, prevented his return to graduate with '01. Returning with years of experience and dignity he enters to graduate with '17 only 16 years later. From some of his deep discourses in class we can arrive at some conclusion as to his experience and education even though we know little of him.

LEWIS ARTHUR EYSTER FISHER'S FERRY

Freeburg Academy; Susquehanna Preparatory School; I. C. S.; Phi Gamma Delta; Editor-in-Chief L'Agenda; Assistant Librarian, 1, 2; Class Baseball, 2; Bucknell Band, 2; Sophomore Oratorical Contest; Charter Member Rifle Club; Classical Course. "Loui."

"Lifes too short to squander."

Here is a man from a little town who does big things. Just turn the pages of this book, and on nearly every one of them you will see the excellent results of his efforts. He is a hustler at school, and having undertaken to sail his own boat upon the sea of life, he hustles also during his vacations. Four subjects are his hobby, besides maintaining a regular position with the Lewisburg Garage Co. as their Right Hand Man. "Loui" has made good as a salesman during the summers of his college course, but he will follow the pedagogical profession when he graduates, in which he has had a few years experience. Go to it, "Loui," and if you hustle as much later as you do now we will surely drink a health to your extraordinary success.

L'AGENDA 1917

CARL DALIUS FELTON
SUNBURY

Sunbury High School; Civil Engineer Society; Civil Engineering Course. "Fet," "C. D."

"In all thy humors, whether grave or mellow, Thou art such a touchy, tasty, pleasant fellow."

"Fet," beside being a commuter, a student and an Engineer, smokes an old briar pipe. A certain professor claims that, smelling the fumes of a pipe about a block away, remarked to a friend, "I guess Felton is around, smells like his pipe." Carl, that is a hard one, and we hope you get a new pipe for a graduating present. One question, "C. D.," why do you go home every evening? No, you don't need to answer, for we know the answer. But never fear, we won't expose you.

Well, Carl, we wish you and your old pipe success, for who knows but what his pipe is a lucky charm and may prove its worth.

RALEIGH MILTON FELTON
CONNELLSVILLE

Kingwood High School, W. Va.; Bucknell Academy; Delta Theta Upsilon; Varsity Football, 1, 2, 3; Class Football, 1; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Banquet Toast, 2; Y. M. C. A. Hand Book Committee; Cap and Dagger; Ministerial Association; L'Agenda Board; Classical Course. "Tickles," "How?"

"Mountaineers are always free."

Here is a man who can play football and at the same time make a straight "A." "Tickles" is an exceedingly busy man, for in addition to the activities enumerated above he is one of "Coxie's" chief ink-flirters, is taking Elocution, and is engaged in various other side issues. The word leisure is unknown to him. Yet, as many duties as he has, "Tickles" fulfills each with credit, and besides finds time to help his neighbor and be a man among men. "How?" was assigned to him because of his incredulity, but the other appellation remains a mystery. The vista of the future unveils to us an eminent, imposing figure, Raleigh Milton Felton, the pulpit orator.

L'AGENDA 1917

CHARLES HENRY WASHINGTON FISHER ASHLAND

Ashland High School; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; General Science Course. "Fat."

"What's in a name?"

"Fat" comes from the one street town of Ashland, and is the only one remaining of the trio who entered 1917 from that place. "Fat" is a very quiet fellow, so quiet, in fact, that he prefers the solitude of a room down town to the noisy comradeship of the fellows on the Hill. Fisher is also quite a musician, as he possesses a fine tenor voice and can make a piano or pipe organ feel that it is being handled by a master hand. Here's wishing you success, "Fat."

HOWARD CHRISTOPHER FISHER SHAMOKIN DAM

Sunbury High School; Civil Engineering Society; Varsity Football, 1; Class Baseball, 1; Class Track, 1, 2; College Band, 1, 2, 3; Civil Engineering Course. "Skinny," "Fat."

"For he's a jolly good fellow."

Here is the greatest portion of our class. "Skinny" is a man after our own heart, fat, good-natured, an athlete and a scholar. Until this year "Skinny" did not room on the Hill, but on account of "Strength" he decided to stay with us this year—that is with the exception of Wednesday and Friday evenings when he goes home to stay with his mother (?). His chief delight is blowing his big bass horn, and we want to tell you that he is mighty good. Well, "Fat," we leave you, wishing you a most successful career, both as a Civil Engineer and a musician.

L'AGENDA 1917

DONALD ANTHONY FUSIA
WILKINSBURG

Wilkinsburg High School; Phi Kappa Psi; Class Track, 1; Class Football, 1, 2; Medical Society; Biology Course. "Tony," "Fuss."

"Small of stature but mighty of mind."

We can see only one reason why "Tony" took up the Barber trade before he entered Bucknell, and that is because he is such a little shaver. However, he is going to drop the barbar trade and take up medicine. That's why he's here. While in our midst "Tony" has developed along the lines of "Fussology" as well as "Medics," for he is attracted to the Sem. Be careful, "Tony," Kane is a poor place for a doctor to locate. A happy future seems to be his end.

BRUCE DALLAS GALBRAITH
BRIDGETON, N. J.

Bridgeton High School; Chemical Engineering Society; Junior Prom. Committee; Junior Smoker Committee; Chemical Engineering Course. "Gal," "Dill," "Kid."

"Youth! Youth! How bouyant are thy hopes! they turn Like daffodils toward the sunny side."

That's all right, we accept your apologies. We can not blame you for mistaking "Dill" for a Prep. But we are glad to say that he is a full fledged Junior in every respect, even as to being a junior in age, for he is the baby of the class. "Kid" in his Freshman year called quite a bit in town, but now, on account of the war (?), he spends his spare time in the Chemistry Laboratory trying to discover a new way of making dyes. He has not succeeded as yet, but we expect him to do so before he leaves Bucknell, or soon afterward.

L'AGENDA 1917

NELLYLOU GARDENER OXFORD, N. J.

Oxford High School; Belvidere High School; Easton Academy; Student Volunteer Conference Camp-fire Girls; Classical Course. "Neighbor."

"Of manner gentle and affection mild."

Bucknell is the place out of many that seem to have suited our Nellie. Although we were afraid of losing her after her freshman year, she returned to us again after having spent some time in Easton Academy. Not only the beautiful trees on our campus brought her back, but also its shining "Brook." This year she developed a keen interest in Y. W. C. A. and went to the conference at Gettysburg. Something at Gettysburg greatly attracted her attention as the girls who room near her teasingly assert. Into their sympathetic ears she pours tales of—well, Y. W. C. A.

CHARLES CLIFFORD GILLETTE RUSHVILLE, N. Y.

Rushville High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Class Baseball, 2; Gun Club; Captain Class Basketball, 1; Junior Prom. Committee; Junior Smoker Committee; Junior Reception Committee; Electrical Engineering Society; Electrical Engineering Course. "Gillie."

"Can't you see I'm bashful?"

Quietly and calmly creeping from a secluded hill in New York State came this bashful, gentle, sedate, timid youth with the big black eyes. Guided by the star of electricity, he pursued that course in engineering, giving his undivided attention to that alone. Very occasionally, however, he chose to develop his social element by sallying to the Sem. He proved by practical experiment that ONE PART OF MILTON MIXED WITH ONE PART OF SEMINARY IS INCOMPATIBLE AND COMBUSTIBLE. During his spare moments he does considerable "Reed-ing," and, indeed, the habit has grown considerable since the beginning of this year. All who know "Gillie" are his friends, and this together with his master mind prophesy certain success.

L'AGENDA 1917

EARL LEROY GRACE

PENN YAN, N. Y.

Penn Yan Academy; Forum; Class Track, 1, 2; L'Agenda Board; Junior Prom. Committee; Junior Smoker Committee; Mechincal Engineering Society; Mechincal Engineering Course. "Chicken," "Grace."

"A strong and Penn Yan man is he."

"Chickens" are "Chicken's" chief delight and torment. How his heart goes pit-i-pat when the poultry go tripping by! Sometimes, in fact, whenever he gets a chance, "Chicken" gets bold and so bold as to go to see another fellow's girl (especially at Milton.) Mostly, though, he carries on long-distant flirtations—across the street for instance. Once he got desperate and grasped at a single straw—and missed. Without kiddin' our little girl "Grace" has his serious moments—hours of them in shop—and Burpee couldn't do without him. Here's hoping that all his Mechanical devices run as rapidly and as unfailingly as his talking apparatus.

JOHN AUGUSTUS GRAY, JR.

MILTON

Milton High School; General Science Course. "Jawn."

"Better late than never."

"Jawn" is one of our commuters. He says the life of a commuter is the life of a dog. He claims that when he arises every morning at six-thirty and returns home at the same time in the evening that he has put in a full day. We say so, too, "Jawn." We think that Gray's most trying feat was to get to "Lindy's" "Strength" class before the last bell had sounded. Although taking a General Science Course, Gray picks tough subjects, such as Strength of Materials, Quantitative Chemistry and—Metallurgy. We are in doubt as to whether "Jawn" will teach or be an Engineer, but we do know that which ever he chooses, he will succeed.

L'AGENDA 1917

ARTHUR JAE GREENLEAF QUARRYVILLE

Little Britain High School; Millersburg State Normal; Franklin and Marshall; Beta Upsilon Sigma; Phi Kappa Psi; Glee Club, 2, 3; Sophomore Banquet Committee; Rifle Club, 3; Biology Course. "Pep," "Aj."

"Whittier than John."

"Pep" came to us in our Sophomore year with the distinguished title of "Professor." That accounts for his late coming or it might have been that he did not like the other classes as well as he did ours. At any rate, he is with us now and we certainly do not regret his choice, as he is a very jovial companion and classmate. As a Biological student there are few better, and as a "fusser" has shown marked progress. We know he will have a prosperous future in whatever he attempts.

DONALD ALBERT HAMAN EAGLES MERE

West Chester Normal School; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Theta Delta Tau; Chairman Banquet Committee, 1; Manager Class Basketball, 2; Electrical Engineering Society; Electrical Engineering Course. "Don," "Sheckles," "Shylock."

"Either act or get off the stage."

From his wide-reaching escapades at West Chester and Picture Rocks, "Don" has learned enough of life to know that time means money, and is therefore the most precious of all things. Hence his most prominent characteristics, sobriety and industry, are not to be wondered at. The proverbial sailor, with a girl in every port, has nothing on "Don," but at present Mifflinburg appears to have a shade on the others. "Don" is practicality personified, and this quality, coupled with his all around good fellowship, should make him a brilliant engineer. As a prophet, "Don" has a few peers, since he is able to look into the land of what "might" happen and be prepared for any emergency.

L'AGENDA 1917

ANNA ELLIS HANKINS

HAVRE DE GRACE, MD.

Salem High School; Latin Philosophical Course; Treasurer Y. W. C. A., 3; Assistant Business Manager Bucknellian, 2, 3. "Annar."

"Man delights me not, or woman either."

—SHAKESPEARE.

Here is one of our representatives of the south. But though Anna comes from below the Mason and Dixon line she has none of her Maryland sisters' drawl and languid air. On the contrary, Anna is very business like, as is seen in the fact that she is the financier of the Y. W. C. A. and of the Bucknellian. When it comes to money matters she is so exact that the payment of even a cent is duly receipted. A good business woman does not talk "shop" but—"the world is so full of a number of things."

LILLIAN HELENA HANNOLD

PAULSBORO, N. J.

Woodbury High School; L'Agenda Board; Latin Philosophical Course. "Helen."

"Aurcam quisquis mediocritatem diligit," etc.

Helen is a petit, lively young person of the volatile "enfant terrible" type; a sort of feminine gender of Penrod. "O you're horrid," and "I think you're awful," are some of her most affectionate greetings to her friends. A staunch advocate and bitter opponent; she leaves no one in doubt as to her state of mind. In Helen we find exemplified the adage, "A friend in need is a friend indeed." She is very fond of New Jersey, but a number of postcards from across the sea have lately directed our wonder and surmise in that direction.

L'AGENDA 1917

FRANCES GERALDINE HANSON FLEMINGTON, N. J.

Flemington High School; Pi Beta Phi; General Science Course. "Annie," "Gerald," "Gerry," "Gerald." "Gerald."

"Faith, Hope and Love. But the greatest of these is Love."

"Well here's Gerald!" With a little "huh" or a chuckle, Geraldine enters the room. Full of fun and ready for any trick, she is always welcome wherever she goes. It's lots of fun to get her into an argument and watch how gracefully she makes her gestures. Of course, she took Oratory under Bromley. How prettily Gerald blushed when we first noticed her Kappa Sigma pin. But when questioned she shyly dropped her eyes and answered, "I Giff-in."

FRANK SLAYMAN HARTMAN ELYSBURG

Elysburg High School; Classical Course. "Frankie."

"He is a man, take him for all in all."

When "Frankie" entered Bucknell t'was then we first heard of Elysburg. "Frankie" became immediately popular with his fellows—that is, when they were on hazing parties. Hartman also taught the boys the gentle art of "Snipe hunting." He is quite an expert at "bagging" this game. Among Hartman's most thrilling experiences was his bath in the Susquehanna and in West College during his Sophomore year. He takes three languages and still has time to waste, and aspires to become a college professor after taking a post graduate course at Harvard, where he says he expects to room with Bertin. May his hopes be realized!

L'AGENDA 1917

SARA ALICE HASLAM
PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia High School for Girls; Pi Beta Phi; Freshman Declamation Contest; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, 1, 2; L'Agenda Board; Bucknellian Staff; Editor of Bucknell Women's Journal; Eagles Mere Y. W. C. A. Delegate, 1; Lancaster Student Volunteer Conference, 2; Latin Philosophical Course. "Hasie."

" 'Tis better to wear out, than rust out."

We've met with fair co-eds of many sorts,
And some was corkin' fine and some was not,
With fussers, snobs and soreheads, grinds and sports,
But Alice is the finest of the lot.
So here's to you, Alice Haslam, with your sense of humor rare;
You ain't no awful social hit
But with the goods you're there;
And here's to you, Alice, with your curly head of hair;
Though you've very much to say
You're always on the square.

ALBERT WAYNE HATFIELD
NEWARK, N. J.

Barringer High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Class President, 1; Toastmaster Freshman Banquet; Glee Club, 1; L'Agenda Board, 2, 3; Gun Club; Electrical Society; Electrical Engineering Course. "Critic," "Wayne."

"The girl is in London, Ha! Ha!"

Here is a man of whom we know very little, though he has been with us for three years. He evidently is possessed with a deep, conservative, philosophical personality, for when he does decide to say a word it is of a very serious nature and carries with it a world of significance. He is a native of N. J. from whence come many of our students, but even they cannot undermine the profundity of this man's inexplicable disposition. He is an accomplished pianist, and the melodious rhythm of his musical chords extract from the very pit of his inspirational centers the emotion which thrill the sensational faculties of his audience. He is an efficient electrical student and this with his musical skill will lead him to success both in the business and social world.

L'AGENDA 1917

CHARLES JOSEPH HAY POTTSVILLE

Pottsville High School; Lambda Chi Alpha; Freshman Banquet Committee; Mechanical Engineering Society; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Hay."

"When the hero's in the highwood and the last furrow's sown, Comes merry, merry shepherd a-seekin' for her own."

The name would suggest a feverish disposition, but the fact is Hay is quite cool. Begorah, they tell me that he takes a P. M. (Post Midnight) walk from Milton quite as commonly as would he the wearin' of the green. Furthermore, the name suggests the presence of some of the proverbial "seeds," but we shall have to award to Pottsville the peculiar honor of producing seedless Hay.

We are told that the Alpine shepherds climb the mountains from spring till autumn in order to keep in the region of the greenest grass, but Charles has found a Shepherd who says she prefers the grass after it becomes Hay.

DONALD DAVID HAYES HARTLETON

Hartleton High School; Bucknell Academy; Upsilon Gamma Sigma; Phi Kappa Psi; Class Track, 1; President Bucknell Athletic Association, 3; Electrical Engineering Course. "Rube," "K. D."

"Bashful once, but never again."

Hello "Reuben! "My, you're lookin' spry and chipper the mornin'." "Bashful Rube" would not even look at a girl in his Freshman year. But since that time, he has become an ardent caller at the Sem., and with the aid of a "jitney" took up a wild ride. But "Deacon" put an end to his hilarity and he went promptly to the "Jordan" to do piety for his sins. There he met the little maiden who made him forget all his troubles and he is his old self again.

"Never postpone business."

"Jack," as he is familiarly known here and at Syracuse, came to us from the wilds of Shickshinny, a town noted for its coal and "round-headers," and strange as it may seem, he is proud of it. During his three years at Bucknell, it has been "Jack's" aim to do something noble for his class and the successful management of this book is the culmination of that aim. Cool of head and calm of spirit, besides possessing that knowledge of business, which is so necessary in every profession, "Heb" will surely become a great surgeon.

HENRIETTA HEINSLING

ALTOONA

Altoona High School; Bucknell Seminary; Pi Phi; C. E. A.; Soiree; Student Executive Committee, 3; Class Historian; General Science Course. "Hen."

"He comes up smiling."

Oh, you're little and you're shy,
You're a terror and O, my!
But you cannot tell a lie,
Can you, Henny?

So they put you on Exec.,
But you don't care a speck,
Though from squelching you're a wreck,
Aren't you, Henny?

So you simply dash and dart
As your orders you impart,
And you've the "Key fer" some one's heart,
Why worry Henny?

"Laugh and the world laughs with you."

After a varied career at several prep. schools, "Hop" came to B. U. as the original dispenser of merriment and good cheer. "Hop's" doctrine, that all work and no play will make dyspepsia, or on the Equador-im-fertin, is a sure remedy for blues and the like. At football "Hop" has made good, not only as a 'varsity man, but in 1917's Freshman year he beat the Sophs "all by his ownself," a feat never to be forgotten in the annals of his class. With the ladies, "Hop" is a sure winner.

EDITH McCLONG HORTON MILLVILLE, N. J.

Millville High School; Pi Beta Phi; Student Executive Committee, 2; Bucknell Operatic Society; General Science Course. "Toddy," "Edie."

"Good, Pct!"

Do you know Edith? She was one of the victims of the tricks on second floor annex last year. For a while "Edie's" time was spent writing little notes for Student Exec. But since relinquishing that position her favorite pastime is drawing ameba and other microscopic animals. Although you might not believe it we must admit that "Edie" is like the gypsies in that she likes to pack her things and move from one building to another. But she likes best of all to pack her suit-case to go home a few days early at vacation time. What about the telegram, "Edie?" Spell her name. It E-D-I-T-H and don't forget the "Dot."

MARY ELIZABETH HUMPHREY

NANTICOKE

Nanticoke High School; Latin Philosophical Course;

"I chatter, chatter like the brook."—TENNYSON.

Many are the evenings that Mary entertains the crowd by her jokes and Welsh songs. It takes a great deal to get ahead of the Dutch, but who can get ahead of the Welsh? To be master of that language, which to most of us is unintelligible, is an accomplishment worth while. In the classroom the Profs, too, find her entertaining. When a Freshman, she thought it advisable to take a back seat, but in this Prof. Riemer disagreed with her. He delighted in interrupting her conversation with her neighbor.

Avonmore, a little town in Western Pennsylvania, mourns the day when Aileen left for Lewisburg. We are glad, however, that Aileen did not heed the Avonmore petitioners but stayed at Bucknell. In her Freshman year, books held no great attraction for Aileen, but fudge, dates, and sleeping proved far more attractive. After two years, however, she has found a rational division of labor and pleasure and now is trodding the path of a faithful student. Everybody loves Aileen for all the world loves a lover. Aileen is a strict Presbyterian. She goes to church regularly.

How one small head could carry all he knew."*

It is with much regret that the disciples of Newton have been compelled to observe the complete nullification of that great law of gravitation that has been given credence by civilization for so many years. Kase has demonstrated the fact, however, that the force of attraction has no relation whatever to the size of the bodies attracted. "Smear" is not so averse to all nature, though, for we are told that he has made a somewhat intensive study of squirrels and their means of subsistence about the Hill. In connection with this interest as in his other life activities we wish the boy a prosperous future.

Shamokin High School; Wharton School; U. of P. Law School; Delta Xi; Jurisprudence Course. "Squire."

"Seek and ye shall find."

"Squire" as he is familiarly known comes to our midst as a future great lawyer and statesman. We predict for "Dan" an illustrious career and wish him success.

"Oh, what may man within him hide."

Gentlemen, there are many "Cy's," but this is the only original "Cy." "Cy" entered as a Freshman from Bucknell Academy, but after one year dropped out, intending to go to State. But the next year, hearing of the wonderful class of 1917, he returned and decided to cast his lot with ours. Although a farmer lad, Kepple can play football, a fact which he has demonstrated to us more than once. "Cy" spends quite a bit of his time "fussing" (?), yet we believe that he will reform and become a successful Mechanical Engineer.

Who won the two-mile in the Freshman-Sophomore meet?

Why, Willie.

Who made a speech at the Sophomore Banquet?

Why, Knouse.

Who started with 1917 in the Ministerial course but changed to General Science?

Holman George Knouse.

Who fusses to the football games?

H. G. K.

Who will, in the future, be Principal of Sunbury High School?

Waynesboro High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Class Football, 2; Member Student Branch of A. S. M. E.; Mechanical Engineering Society; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Jack," "Monk."

"One good turn deserves another."

Here we have the impersonation of "Consistency." Jack never deviates from a marked line of action under similar circumstances. He is a calm sort of chap, but when excited by the attacks of some of the Liberal Art students upon the "Narrowness of Engineering" he is capable of an adequate and effective argument in the defense of his future profession. When not of necessity elsewhere, Jack is usually in his room.

Which is sort of a rendezvous for those in his class who cannot see the "light" in the more difficult Physics problems.

HELEN ELIZABETH KROUSE
ALTOONA

Altoona High School; Latin Philosophical Course; L'Agenda Board; Bucknell Women's Journal Staff. "Frizzy."

"There is a pleasure in poetic pains, which only poets know."—COOPER.

This is our Helen of Dreamy looks,
A girl of whom '17 is proud;
For aside from math and the study of books
She can do no more than the rest of the crowd.

As a Freshman she won our attention,
By posters artistic and grand,
And still in other dimensions
She showed us where Altoona High stands.

Next there was no removal,
When came the call for posters and such,
And that year it was Dr. Phillip's approval
In rhetoric she sought very much.

As a Junior we could not do without her,
For when the new woman's journal came out
It was Helen who aided the editor;
By making cuts, writing stories and what not.

"Now I see through a glass darkly."

"Well, I don't understand that." "All right, Lize, let us explain." And then the girls begin. Finally everything is made clear, and the puzzled expression on "Eliza's" face disappears. At one time we were afraid Lize was going to be a doctor. But who could imagine blue-eyed, rosy-cheeked Lize" doling out pills and linament? Since Christmas vacation "Eliza" has been radiantly happy. Was it because she got such a good report? We would like to have that explained.

HOWARD CHESTER LIEBENSBERGER

WILLIAMSPORT

Williamsport High School; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Theta Delta Tau; Varsity Baseball, 1, 2; Junior Prom. Committee; Junior Smoker Committee; Mechanical Engineering Society; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Lieby," "Cheesy," "Rose."

"There's more than one sweet creature in the world."

Although from his name we know that some of "Lieby's" ancestors were inhabitants of France, Howard now desires to go to war and fight among the bravest for Uncle Sam, which goes to show that "Lieby" is entirely Americanized despite all evidence to the contrary. In his first year at Bucknell, "Lieby" was dubbed "a cheesy flinger" by a Washington paper, but since then "Cheesy" has demonstrated the inconsistency of this nickname by becoming a leading Varsity pitcher. When it comes to clothes, "Lieby" is a veritable Fifth Ave. fashion plate; hence, his drag with the fair ones. Mixed with these other qualities, "Lieby" is a student and an all around good fellow.

WALTER TOMLIN LODGE

PAULSBOBO, N. J.

Paulsboro High School; Sigma Chi; Mandolin Club; Class Football, 1; Class Baseball, 1; Electrical Engineering Course. "Walt," "Dynamite."

"Silence is Golden."

"Walt" decided about a month ago to pack his grip and take a trip back to the old homestead. Electricity became just a little too hard for him and he went back to help Dupont make war supplies for the Allies. "Dynamite," while at school always exhibited a clever "on the quiet" disposition. His eloquence lays in his silence and his power to talk by means of his facial expression is wonderful. He is probably now silently watching the tons of potential death pass out from the Dupont works and quietly approving of the whole dread affair.

HARRY TUTTLE LOFFT

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J.

Central Manual Training School; Phi Gamma Delta; Civil Engineering Society; Civil Engineering Course. "Lofftie," "Cassius."

"Yon Cassius hath a lean and hungry look."

Well, well, well, look upon this peaceful, pleasant physiognomy and you will encounter no difficulty in knowing what kind of a chap this illustrious youth is. "Lofftie" refuses to indulge in any social affairs while here at school, because he has made his promise to a girlie at home. All very well, and we congratulate you on being so true to HER. "Lofftie" will make a good and faithful husband and as to providing for her, and perhaps a few other, we rest assured that he will not fail in this respect, judging from the records he has made in his course. A desirable companion and an excellent student is he, and we will be with him to the end of the world. Here's to you, "Lofftie."

"Zu Zus for me."

Since this little Jerseyite arrived from that heretofore unknown segment of the earth, he has found that 'Lindie's Engineering subjects are a pretty large scale upon which to measure his capabilities. "Matty" is, however, a hard worker, a true-hearted friend, an ardent, steadfast, consistent "fusser," always in a good humor, everybody's friend, full of school "pep" and bubbling over with class spirit, as was shown in the class football game and scraps. He has a voice that rivals Caruso's, and there seems to be a strong significance in the piece called "Peg o' My Heart" for him.

CHARLES DAVID MAURER SHAMOKIN

Coal Township High School; Lambda Chi Alpha; Sophomore Banquet Committee; Mechanical Engineering Society; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Dutch."

*"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the 'coat dirt' of time."*

If "Dutch" is any fair example of the product of coal mines, let's have some more mines. They say that one would have no difficulty in recognizing him as such product in its rather crude state when he arrived at Bucknell, but since the experiences of college life have succeeded in sifting out the real from the rough unpolished "verdure" of earlier years, we feel that Coal Township must be proud of its product improved.

L'AGENDA 1917

Theresa Catherine McCollum
MONTROSE

Montrose High School; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 2; Latin Philosophical Course. "Tressie."

"Behold Arachne sitting at her wheel."

Although Theresa originally came to Lewisburg from Montrose, she fell so in love with our riverside village that she sent home for her auto and her folks, and established them here. Thus she gained a double advantage of home and school, an arrangement also pleasant to her schoolmates. As for Theresa, one unfortunate trait we cannot pass over. Her friends are disturbed concerning her consuming craze for cats. She set out four years ago to get a B.A. degree, and even though the powers of Heaven and earth by winged lightning, and the medical profession by its steely methods, tried to dissuade her, she clung to her aim, and 1917 rises on her success.

JAMES ROBERT McCORMICK

TYRONE

Tyrone High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Band, 1, 2; Mandolin Club, 1; Class Track, 1, 2; Electrical Engineering Society; Rifle Club; Electrical Engineering Course. "Bob," "Mac," "John D."

"I'll do it to-morrow, for to-morrow never comes."

Our friend "Bob" is preparing himself for Electrical Engineering. Recently and for some personal interest which he has made manifest by his frequent visits to Milton, he has been planning a more efficient Electrical Railway between Lewisburg and that place. Rumor has it that he is about to close a contract of a very private and personal nature between himself and a second party, here unnamed out of courtesy, from that place. As to the veracity of the statement we are in no position to testify. "Bob" is a quiet, reserved sort of fellow and does not concern himself with affairs alien to his interests. He is very business-like in his habits and manners and from this we can predict a future that he merits by his sincere efforts.

Altruistic in her attitude toward fellow students.

Methodical. (Look in her top bureau drawer.)

Capable of mastering her studies.

Quite business like. (Refer to her Y. W. C. A. Treasury account.)

Unselfish.

Anti-suffragette.

Yes; that's Lora who "mixed reason with pleasure and wisdom with mirth."

DELEUTH EBER MELLINGER

EPHRATA

Ephrata High School; Sigma Chi; Class Banquet Committee, 1; Glee Club, 1, 2; Class Football, 1; Civil Engineering Course. "Pud," "Butcher."

"Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone."

Merriness in its purest form reigns supreme when "Pud" favors us with his presence. Mirth is written all over him in large letters. His merry laugh is contagious. The "Mummies of Rameses" would crack a smile with "Pud" in sight. In infancy "Pud" had ambition to grow tall. He later changed his mind and stopped growing at five foot three. He then took on about 200 of avoirdupois. He is undoubtedly the largest package of effervescent joy on the Hill. "Pud" originally intended to be a Civil Engineer, but rumor has it that he now has a desire to become a twentieth century "Butcher."

DAVID LANDERS MINK
SHARON

Sharon High School; Delta Theta Upsilon; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Bucknell Orchestra, 1; Bucknell Band; Class Football, 1; Class Track, 1; General Science Course. "Dave," "Owl," "Ka-id."

"Columbus took a chance; 'Owl' places a safe bet."

Do not think, dear readers, that '17 was introducing a menagerie into the sights around Bucknell when it gave admittance to this specimen. Not a whit. He is a real, active human being, except when Morpheus puts it over on four intermitten alarm clocks and claims "Owl" for his own. And they say the way he flourished that left duke of his one night last year was a caution. Just shout "Ka-id" at him and watch him respond! Make sure of your footing, however. As a "Frosch" Dave had athletic ambitions but discarded them later to become one of the blowing force of the Band and an exponent of the art of "fiddlin'."

OLIVE EWING MOORE
BRIDGETON, N. J.

Bridgeton High School; Hopewell High School; Student Executive Committee, 2; Y. W. C. A. Librarian, 2; Latin Philosophical Course. "Oliver," "Olivia."

$$"(a+b)^2 = a^2 + 2ab + b^2."$$

The above quotation brings to mind the days of the zenith of Olive's glory in Prof. Lindeman's class. The most awesome of cosines is first cousinly to her. For the rest, Olive manages the "Straight and narrow path of duty" as skillfully as a tight rope walker. To mention her most glaring virtues, she has never been absent from chapel, and has never been late anywhere. Her hobby is horses though she has no use for ponies. Second in interest, come Freshmen, toward whom she has always shown great consideration. Olive's good sense, sincerity, straightforwardness and sagacity, will lead her to speedy success we are sure.

Binghamton Central High School; Kappa Sigma; Theta Delta Tau; Electrical Engineering Society; Class Baseball, 1; 'Varsity Basketball, 1, 2, 3; 'Varsity Baseball, 1, 2; Class President, 3; Secretary of the "Annex." Electrical Engineering Course. "Tony," "Slats," "Heet."

"He really is a nice boy."

If the act of making friends be taken as the sole basis for judging "Tony," he has a perfect average. His unselfishness and affability make him the friend of everyone, and these qualities with that of good judgment, pointed him out as the proper man for the President of the Junior Class. Murray is a versatile athlete and a fair student. In fact, he has gotten B's in three things in the same year—including "Simp's" Physics. In his scholastic and athletic activities, he goes along smoothly with a sort of "I should worry" attitude, but is there with the punch when the proper time comes.

REGINALD SPOFFORD NEWBURY POINT PLEASANT, N. J.

Point Pleasant High School; Sigma Chi; Phi Delta Sigma; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Class Football, 1; Civil Engineering Course. "Deacon."

"As we meet upon the level, may we part upon the square."

If industry is a criterion of genius great things may be predicted for "Deacon." He seems to realize this year that his tide has come and he is surely taking it a flood. Diligence seems to have become his "middle name," and he is not only diligent in one thing, but too—judging from the letter he receives daily—studying and fussing. He has affected a happy combination of these two greatest essential elements of his college course: neither letting fussing interfere with his study nor study with his fussing. It is only a fair prediction that the "Deacon's" future will be that of a happy benedict and a successful engineer.

L'AGENDA 1917

JESSE WARREN NOLL
LEWISBURG

Lewisburg High School; Medical Society; Biology Course. "Tom."

"He says but little."

"Tom" lives in town, so we on The Hill do not see much of him. Another reason why we don't see much of him is, that there is not much of him to see, for he is the featherweight of the class. He is taking the biology course, but for a time we thought he was going to be a shoe salesman. But now he has his mind on his medicine again and is bemoaning the fact that he will have to wait until next year to help cut up the "stiff."

EDNA ADETA OVERFIELD
WEST PITTSTON

Meshoppen High School; Latin Philosophical Course. "Ted," "Eddie."

*"A full rich nature free to trust,
Faithful and also very just.
Thoughtful and earnest, prompt to act,
And make her generous thought a fact."*

Edna always believes in being happy and contented, and consequently has a large following of friends wherever she goes. Of late we have been seeing less and less of her. The reason is a little white card, and Edna is down the street with a "Russele." We have decided that West Pittston must be a pretty nice place, for Edna spends one term with us and then one term at home. The real reason is a mystery.

*"Serene and resolute and still
And calm and self-possessed."*—LONGFELLOW.

Every Harrison-Fisher lover knows well "The Out-of-Door Girl." Vigor, grace and strength are qualities which personify her and we know that Jeanette fills all the requirements of one who loves the great "out-of-doors." Jeannette is the envy of every Student Government Girl who must abide by the ruling, "No canoeing allowed." Canoeing is her long suite, for often in the spring we see her start with her paddle "riverward." We trust she can paddle as gracefully as she can upset a Car!

GEORGE GRANTHAM PAINTER MUNCY

Muncy High School; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Theta Delta Tau; Class Banquet Toast, 1; Class Treasurer, 2; Varsity Tennis, 1, 2; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 3; Commencement News Staff, 2; Bucknellian Staff; Law Club; L'Agenda Board; Jurisprudence Course. "Grant."

"Come here! I've got a good proposition for you."

We must admit that good things come in small packages, especially when sent from Muncy. In "Grant" we have a combination of a bright student and a jolly good fellow. He is gifted along many lines, so it is rather difficult to prophesy whether he will some day be a Barrister, Editor, or Politician. As the instigator of promiscuous hazing parties, he is "there." "Grant" has an ideal system for preparing his lessons, engaging in other school activities, and still sufficient time left for his two chief diversions: "Seminary" and "Tennis."

L'AGENDA 1917

SARA ASENATH PARK

BEN AVON

Ben Avon High School; Delta Delta Delta; Frill and Frown; Student Executive Committee; General Science Course. "Sally."

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

This is Sally of the "Smoky City" or thereabouts, but you wouldn't think it to look at her. We all know that Sally is interested in the doings at State, but while here she's not "Whiney," she just says, "Grace enough for me." By that you might think that she is a regular church-goer, so let us inform you that the "grace" here mentioned is real rather than ideal. "Sally" also has a humorous side and when she gets started she is more fun than a box of monies.

EARLE STEWARD PEDIGO

CORRY

Corry High School; Phi Kappa Psi; L'Agenda Board; Class Basketball, 1, 2; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Leader ibid., 2, 3; Gun Club, 3; Chemical Society; Bucknell Operatic Society, 2; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Chemical Engineering Course. "Pedy," "Batadas."

"I'm telling you."

It is a course of great pride to us that we have in our ranks one Earle Steward Pedigo, famed far and wide for his marvelous approach to the near-Caruso type. The fact is that Caruso, himself, lives in mortal dread of being superseded by this rising genius, who bids fair to become one of the shining lights of grand opera. Since "Pedy" entered Bucknell Dr. Heiser has been wearing a perpetual grin. As long as the young satellites' throat requires such enormous quantities of soothing patiens, Doc has no fear of the traditional wolf bothering his door. The hero of this sketch, in addition to being highly favored by Enterpe, holds quite a bit of fame as a chemist, but his favorite possession is a key of entrance to "Lover's Retreat."

L'AGENDA 1917

STERLING THOMAS POST DALTON

Bucknell Academy; Omega Alpha; Delta Theta Upsilon; Manager Class Basketball, 2; Cap and Dagger; Latin Philosophical Course. "Unc."

"He desires to graduate with a real class."

"Unc" was slated to graduate in the class of '13, but the "Wanderlust" took him, and for over four years he shifted about the West, making a second Lewis and Clarke Expedition and venturing far North into Canada. He even had ambitions to become an Arctic explorer, until he tried to eat some Eskimo tallow. "Unc" returned and found intellectuality at its highest in '17, in which he promptly registered. Although, in his own words, he comes ten miles from nowhere, "Unc" displays those qualities so indicative in his given name; even more, those who know him well will attest that he is "pure gold."

CHARLES WILBUR POTTER 'SHICKSHINNY

Bloomsburg Normal School; Lambda Chi Alpha; L'Agenda Board; Bucknell Gun Club; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Junior Debate; Secretary Bucknell Board of Debating; General Science Course.

*"Old loves, old aspirations and old dreams,
More beautiful for being old, yet fond."—LOWELL.*

This is Potter, a product of Bloomsburg Normal, and consequently a schoolmaster. After teaching a few years in Columbia County's metropolitan schools, his ambition led him to Bucknell, where he might the better prepare himself for his life's work and thus be the better able to care for his prospective dependents. Here he is distinguishing himself along many lines, especially in debating, which he loves to do in class and out of the class, in season and out of season, —whether right or wrong. His greatest hit thus far in college has been with Bromley Smith when he shot his "peace" oration. But Potter is a worker, faithful, congenial and active, and will compel recognition in the field of public instruction and win—not in the Seminary—Fishing Creek.

"A man's a man for a' that."

"Sister" is the name by which she is proud to be called, but she is a man nevertheless, and her sole interest apparently is to search for excuses which will justify her in betaking herself ever more frequently to that little secluded and sequestered nook in the Alleghenies to which, for the sake of convenience, we are wont to apply the euphonious appellation of Muncy. She goes fishing, she goes gunning, she goes to vote, and she goes to the dentist, but strange to say she never fishes, she never hunts, she never votes, and she seldom sees the dentist. Mystery: What does she do?

KATHRYN ELIZABETH REDELIN

FREELAND

Freeland High School; Hazleton High School; Delta Delta Delta; Frill and Frown; Elocution Contest, 1; L'Agenda Board; General Science Course. "Betty."

*"I work eight hours, I sleep eight hours,
That leaves eight hours for love."*

A cozy young lady is Bet,
She's never been known to fret,
She loves to flirt
Men's hearts to hurt
But she may break her's yet.

Now "Rip" was the first one of all,
A man not so very tall
But Bet was cruel
As is her rule
And sent him off last fall.

The present young man is "Dye"
And we utter here a sigh,
For like the rest
Will he stand the test
Or chance to say bood-bye?

MARY ELIZABETH REESE LANSFORD

Lansford High School; Delta Delta Delta; C. E. A.; Class Historian; General Science Course. "Liz."

"Mary, Mary Quite Contrary."

A lot of noise and singing too,
A cheer for that or this,
Or just some fun of any sort
Our Mary will not miss.

Although her friends are all so stern
Since they're on Student Exec.,
There's noise galore where Mary lives
And there's no use to object.

So Mary, Mary Quite contrary
Here's to you and noise,
We hope you get on student exec.
And have all sorts of joys.

HERMAN FREDERICK REICH SUNBURY

Sunbury High School; Demosthenean; Junior Debate; Vice President Law Club; Jurisprudence Course. "Napoleon," "Socrates."

"So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? For ye shall speak into the air."

1 Corinthians 14:9.

When Herman von Reich climbed the hill for the first time he brought with him a capacity for big words and hard work. In order to enlarge his capacity for big words, Herman is said to have slept with a dictionary under his pillow during his entire Freshman year. We fear, however, that he has almost forgotten the meals he has missed that year while pouring over Latin and German, for at present he believes in sharing his burden with "others," and intermingling work with an occasional good time. Reich's ability to think should win him distinction in his chosen profession.

ALEXANDER MCPHERSON RUSSELL
BEDFORD

Bedford High School; Phi Epsilon Kappa; Phi Kappa Psi; Football, 1, 2; Class Track, 1; Class Baseball, 2; Manager Class Football, 2; Freshman Banquet Committee; Band, 1, 2, 3; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Mandolin Club, 1, 2; Operatic Society, 3; Treasurer Glee Club, 2; Assistant Manager Varsity Baseball; General Science Course. "Alex," "Russ."

"Lean and Lanky."

In Ko-Ko's own words, "Taken from the county jail." Yes, "Russ" hails from the county seat of Bedford county. In college activities "Russ" has participated in almost every branch. His broad Ha! Ha! can be heard most any time, whether upon the field of battle or in a comic opera. However, do not take us wrongly. It is only his good nature poppin' out. The only time he ever gets cross is when some one keeps him from "Rustling" up Walker Street at the appointed hour.

HUGH THOMPSON RUSSELL

MT. PLEASANT

Mt. Pleasant Institute; Westminster College; Law Society; Jurisprudence Course. "Russ."

"I love the ladies." "Cut it out."

"Attorney-at-Law. Stocks and Bonds. Insurance."—HUGH T. RUSSELL.

In the Oliver Office Building in Pittsburgh you will, some day, see this sign, and you will recall a dark haired, fair complexioned fellow who graduated, in 1917, from Bucknell. You will go in and shake hands with the same old "Russ." After offering you a cigar and asking you about the Hill, Hugh will start upon his favorite subject, "The Ladies." And you will find that he knows just as much about them, and as many of them, as he did in the days at old Bucknell.

SAMUEL LEROY SEEMAN OAKMONT

Bucknell Academy; Sigma Chi; Theta Delta Tau; Glee Club, 1; 'Varsity Basketball, 2; 'Varsity Baseball, 2; Captain Varsity Baseball, 3; Class Vice President, 1; Sophomore Banquet Committee, 2. "Cosc.".

"Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits."

If the P. & R. Railroad ever finds a need for an efficient conductor, "Cosc." will be a splendid man for them to employ. Ever since his younger days around Bucknell, that 6:06 train regularly carried him to Sunbury. It is not, however, for the purpose of learning Railroading that he has done this traveling, but rather to explore the mysteries of the wondrous realms of "True Love." Along with this pleasure "Cosc." has found time to take a "Gentle Man's" College course, be Captain of 'Varsity Baseball, and be a "King" among good fellows.

RUSSELL M. SHEARER NORTHUMBERLAND

Northumberland High School; Lambda Chi Alpha; Mechanical Engineering Society; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Rus," "Scissors."

"She's some kid; take it from me!!"

"Rus" says that he is at Bucknell because of nothing other than a sheer desire to augment his already enviable fund of knowledge, and when one looks over his weekly program he is forced to conclude that "Scissors" is not going to be disappointed. Besides getting out his lessons in first class condition "Rus" handles the Hill end of the Peerless Laundry, attends to the house and dining-room duties of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, manipulates the binding twine now and then at Difenderfer's and divides his leisure time between his two favorite occupations, fussing and reading Shakespeare.

DON BENITO SHIPMAN
SUNBURY

Sunbury High School; Civil Engineering Society;
Class Football, 2; Freshman Banquet Committee;
Civil Engineering Course. "Wop," "Shippie."

"A hit, a very perceptible hit."

Careful, girls, this is our heart smasher. Don drifted in from Sunbury with some more of his kind to join with the class of 1917. Don became famous in his Freshman year for taking trips to Milton to see the movies (?), which was contrary to upper-classmen law. Because of his daring, and also good luck, he was never hazed for this violation; merely dumped, one cold night, into the creek. In more recent years "Shippie" has become more educated and we predict for him a successful career. Who knows but he may construct a new trolley line to Milton.

HARLEY NEVIN SHIPMAN

Sunbury High School; Sigma Chi; Sophomore Banquet Toast; Civil Engineering Course. "Embalmer," "Shippie."

In this handsome youth we have the pride of Sunbury. His ability is beyond reproach and the way he applies himself makes him the marvel of all men. Two things seem to be pre-eminent in his mind: his studies and "A" girl. He is continually searching textbooks for the rarest of gems, and if you see him indulging in any revelry you may feel sure that he has first attended to his studies. The Orpheum cannot be classed as a pastime for that is a requirement for him. He has made it a major with extra added "Lab" hours. But alas! when the cares of the week have passed he goes to his home in Sunbury where he crowns the activities of the week with "the" girl. Why should we not predict a brilliant future for one so modest and temperate as he?

L'AGENDA 1917

FRANCES H. SILBERSTEIN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia High School for Girls; Student Executive Board; Advertising Manager of Bucknell Women's Journal; L'Agenda Board; General Science Court.

"I am sure care's an enemy to life."

If by asking many questions a maiden will grow wise

We have a certain classmate who's bound to take the prize,

For Frances asks you early and Frances asks you late,

Whether grass is green in summer and whether fish can skate,

But even in this failing is Frances very dear

For when there's someone sick and needful of some cheer

This merry giggling Frances is the first to appear

Her smile is quite contagious and soon we too must smile;

And so we're very thankful "Frances" tarried here a while.

CHARLES BUNNELL SIPLEY

NICHOLSON

Stanhope High School; Keystone Academy; Phi Gamma Delta; Sophomore Banquet Committee; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Football, 2; Captain Class Basketball, 2; Assistant Manager Tennis, 3; Vice President Bucknell-Keystone Club; General Science Course. "Boogie," "Sip."

"Cows may come and cows may go, but his 'bull' goes on forever."

Behold the man from the site of the ninth wonder of the world—the great Nicholson Bridge—and indeed he is representative of a place where they do things. He is an all around athlete, even partaking of the most popular of the Mexican sports; and besides his athletic achievements he is doing things in the General Science course too. He is not of a quiet nature and his presence is usually made known to those in his neighborhood by the talkative and musical turn of his disposition. All in all "Sip" is a good fellow, and though he is somewhat undecided as to his vocation, we feel safe in prophesying that success awaits him in the pedagogical profession.

L'AGENDA 1917

CHARLES AUSTIN SOARS NORRISTOWN

Norristown High School; Phi Gamma Delta; Class Football, 1, 2; Class Track, 1, 2; Assistant in Chemistry; Prize Freshman Declamation Contest; Sophomore Oratory Contest; Glee Club, 1, 2; Manager Y. M. C. A. Handbook; Bucknellian Staff; President Rifle Club; Chemical Engineering Course; Chemical Engineering Society. "Tomat," "Lizzie."

"How firm a foundation."

Demosthenes, Webster, and Cicero have had their days as orators, and now Soars has his. Tall, broad, big-hearted, good-natured, stern, with a most impressive personality he can hold spell-bound his audience with any subject from Domestic Science to National Defence. Furthermore, he is an exceptional vocal artist, not only in English but also in foreign tongues, and not only in solo but also in concerto. We have every reason to expect big things from this mighty man in Chemical Engineering.

IRVIN P. SOWERS POTTERSVILLE, N. J.

Bernards High School; Forum; Banquet Committee, 2; Sophomore Cotillion Committee; Class Football, 1, 2; Biological Course. "Dutch."

"As busy as a little Bee, Storing Honey for the Lca."

At last "Dutch" decided that Pottersville and the girls back home would have to give him up, so with a desire to better acquaint himself with nature and the lower animals he came to Bucknell. "Dutch's" merry whistle and well known laugh is ever with him and is sure to announce to his friends his presence. "Dutch" and the Sem. could never get along together, but leave it to him when it comes to those weekly trips to the "apple of his eye," "the Wagner." Perhaps this is due to his roving nature. If it is, let the world beware, for when he grips his opportunity it will be with a grip of steel that will carry him far into the world of fame.

L'AGENDA 1917

CLARA RAY SPEARE LEWISBURG

Lewisburg High School; Kappa Delta; L'Agenda Board; Freshman Declamation Contest; Biological Course. "Claire."

"Alone, alone, all, all alone."

Ray revels around with a wicked knife
On the "tip-top" floor of the Lab.
She cuts up rabbits which have no life
And draws the shell of a crab.

When asked if scared she gives a sniff
And never blinks an eye,
But stares right in on the poor old stiff
Who is then too dead to die.

RAYMOND EYLER SPRENKLE WAYNESBORO

Waynesboro High School; Member Student Branch A. S. M. E.; Mechanical Engineering Society; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Assistant Manager Glee Club, 3; College Band, 1, 2, 3; Assistant in Drawing; Mechanical Engineering Course. "Sprenk," "Squirt," "Prof."

"Yon Sprenkle has a lean and hungry look."

"Got anything to eat." When you hear this cry you know that Sprenkle is around. This is the fellow who eats his meals, comes directly up to the Hill and complains that he is hungry. But this does not prevent him from being a good student, as he is an assistant in Drawing, and if we may judge from what the Freshmen say, he makes a very good Assistant. "Sprenk" is also quite a musician as he plays the trombone in the Band and sings second tenor in the Glee Club. Well, "Squirt" don't eat too much and you may become a good Mechanical Engineer.

L'AGENDA 1917

CLINTON IRWIN SPROUT

PICTURE ROCKS

Picture Rocks High School; Keystone Academy; Demosthenean; Freshman Banquet Committee; Sophomore Banquet Committee; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Captain, 2; Mandolin Club; Freshman Declamation Contest; Junior "Ex."; Assistant Editor Bucknellian; L'Agenda Board; Bucknell-Keystone Club; Latin Philosophical Course. "Kinky," "Stuffy," "Sprig."

"There is written in your brow honesty and constancy."

An energetic athlete, a hard student, a musician and a literary man; Sprout is one of the popular members of the class. His wit and humor, well balanced by his ability to meet and solve serious problems, makes him a good sample of an all-around college man. When "Kinky" left his gun and fishing tackle up at Picture Rocks, he settled down to Bucknell life and in his under-classman years "pegged" away steadily; but when the hunting season opened he left for the mountains.

WARNER SPURGEON SQUIB

McKEESPORT

McKeesport High School; Delta Theta Upsilon; Manager Class Baseball, 1; Class Basketball, 1; Chairman Sophomore Banquet Committee; Electrical Engineering Society; Electrical Engineering Course. "Minnie."

"I have immortal longings in me."

Here is an engineer who claims that there is but one dimension in space. He fails to say which this is, but, judging from his appearance, we assume it to be length. "Minnie" is a very versatile fellow and much of a traveler, especially around the Great Lakes. If you don't know what this means, ask him about "Erie." It is to be regretted that "Minnie" has never registered in the Elocution department, for his travesty work shows a genius. He is a pool shot, too. Incidentally, the only game he ever won was with a blind man. He is a regular king on a throne when perched high up on a piano stool, however, for he can make the ivories carry on a delightful conversation. His favorite sports are basketball, tennis and sleighing.

L'AGENDA 1917

FRANK E. STETLER

LEWISBURG

Middleburg High School; Susquehanna University;
Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Student Member A. I. E.
E.; Course in Electrical Engineering. "Pete."

"Anything for a quiet life."

Here we have a student in the true sense of the word. A lover of the quiet life, "Pete" would rather work Math problems than eat, and, as an Engineer, "Pete" will surely make good. Outside of his required work, "Pete" is doing some experimenting on his own hook by means of a wireless station erected on his house-top. It is rumored that most of his messages come from Rochester. Although temperate in all his habits, "Pete" has been known to be very near a Cas-a-beer on several occasions.

ALEXANDER SYRS STORER

PITMAN, N. J.

Wenonah Military Academy; Phi Kappa Psi; Varsity Baseball, 1, 2; Class Football, 1, 2; Electrical Engineering Course. "Al," "Lover."

"All the world loves a lover."

Introducing to you "My Son Al," the Varsity third sacker. Of course "Lover" is only a nickname, and what's in a name? All we know about it is that he received this title by editing a daily magazine and sending it "Down Home." But "Lover" did not spend all his time writing letters, for he has chosen as a profession "Electrical Engineering" and anyone who has been in his classes knows that he is far from being a statue. Taken all in all, "Lover" is a very popular fellow and a good worker. All you could ask of anyone.

L'AGENDA 1917

EDITH PAULINE SUPERKO
NANTICOKE

Nanticoke High School; Nanticoke-Bucknell Club; Chairman of the Bible Committee; Student Volunteer Conference Delegate, 2; Latin Philosophical Course. "Sperkie."

"Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go."

Nanticoke is to be congratulated on having trained up so "Superb" a young lady. Edith believes in persistence as the price of perfection. We surmise she hasn't found him yet, though there have been several applicants. Her hobby at present is extra courses; she has four side studies this term. We would fear mental indigestion for Edith if we did not feel sure that she realizes that "The spice of occasional jollification" is a first aid to digestion. Why she looks so wistful we don't know. In disposition Edith is, in movie parlance a composite of little Eva in Uncle Tom's Cabin.

EBER NELSON SWOPE

WAYNESBORO

Waynesboro High School; Civil Engineering Society; L'Agenda Board; Class Football, 1, 2; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Class Track, 1, 2; Civil Engineering Course. "Swope," "Red."

"Like Washington—is Swope—first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his fellow-classmen."

"That noise"—Oh, that's Swope singing! His chief delight is torturing others and his singing is one way in which he does it. Eber is an all around man. By this, we mean that he is one of the class's best athletes, a good student, a second Caruso and a fusser. Yes—a fusser. One fine autumn afternoon he startled the College by fussing at a football game. In work or play his efforts are backed up with a persistency that is bound to make him a winner. Well, "Red," we wish you success in life.

RICHARD EVERLEIGH THOMAS NANTICOKE

Nanticoke High School; Electrical Engineering Society; Nanticoke-Bucknell Club; Class Football, 1, 2; Class Track, 1; Electrical Engineering Course. "Red," "Dick."

"Thou shalt sleep no more."

Here is the only red head in the class. Besides this we know him to be the sleepest man in the class, for "Dick" cuts quite a few classes on account of over-sleeping. But you ought to see him playing football. Nothing sleepy about him then. But "Red" can afford to sleep for he, like the rest of those Nanticokers, is somewhat of a shark. We think Thomas is going to make some hit as an Electrical Engineer.

ETHEL VIOLA WARD LEWISBURG

Lewisburg High School; Latin Philosophical Course. "Wardie."

"The lambs play always, they know no better."

We surmise this is the gentle murmur on the lips of Dr. Martin, as he taps on the door of the "woman's ward"—Ethel's ward, rather, for she seems the dominant spirit of the playtime there. Her spirit is of the effervescent soda fountain variety. She is such a little thing that she can really skip back and forth between the realm of "kindheit" and the domain of college womanhood, and she never pauses long in either. Ethel is the proud possessor of auburn hair, so fashionable this year. Among her other prerequisites we might mention is her skill in dodging the notice of the Profs, and her seraphic expression! (?) when Prexie singles her out as a next victim, in Ethics.

CLARENCE REUBEN WEBER
PHILADELPHIA

Rebersburg High School; Mercersburg Academy; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Theta Delta Tau; Phi Delta Sigma; Law Club; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Operatic Society, 2; Manager Glee Club, 3; Class Secretary, 1; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Jurisprudence Course. "Joe," "Pope," "Web."

"Lawyers and sharks are not easily satisfied."

Behold the lad with the silvery voice! Within a short time "Joe" will be heralded from coast to coast, as he is contemplating a Chautauqua tour next summer in conjunction with Larry Slack. As an athlete "Joe" is there; and by the way, "Joe" has some brother! If we may reckon from the way in which "Joe" faces mad dogs, his tenacious spirit will surely make a great lawyer of him some day. His genial disposition has brought "Joe" many friends at Bucknell. We predict a very Bright future for him.

JOSEPH CHARLES WEIRICK
LEWISBURG

Howard High School; Bellefonte Academy; State College, 1, 2; Principal Howard High, 1906-10; Principal Central Grammar, Lock Haven, 1910-12; Principal Lock Haven High, 1912-15. General Science Course.

"Quiet, steady, strong in mind, Fit for a job of any kind."

The class of '17 takes pride in announcing Mr. Weirick as one of its members. Being comparatively advanced in years, and the family head of a nice little home, he is one who helps to maintain the stability and equilibrium of our class. He is a splendid type of man, and his capabilities and experiences are partly expressed in the foregoing list of activities. His quiet disposition and gentle nature can but warm the hearts of his fellow students to a good and true friendship. He is a regular and progressive student and therefore his future, besides giving him his due reward, is bound to reflect credit and favorable commendation upon his Alma Mater.

L'AGENDA 1917

EARLE BAXTER WEST APOLLO

Apollo and Vandergrift High Schools; Sigma Chi; Theta Delta Tau; Class Secretary, 2; Class Baseball, 1; Freshman Banquet Committee; Sophomore Cotillion Committee; Junior Prom. Committee; Junior Smoker Committee; Chemical Engineering Society; Chemical Engineering Course. "Westie."

*"Of all great chemists that I know,
There really are but three,
And since old Joe Priestly died;
That leaves but Billie and me."*

"Cut it out," and "Isn't she a Daundie?" are "Westie's" favorite expressions. It's wonderful how these smaller species of humanity do get around. Between studying and going up to see Katherine his time surely is occupied. Week-end trips seem to be his specialty. He came to Bucknell from that mythological town of Apollo, and says the trouble with Pittsburgh is, that it is too far from home.

YEURITH LEVENIA WESTBAY ELIZABETH

Elizabeth High School; Indiana State Normal; Delta Delta Delta; C. E. A.; Assistant Manager L'Agenda; President Woman's Tennis Club 2; Class Poetess. "Rith," "Levy."

"It's the songs you sing and the smile you wear, That's a makin' the sunshine everywhere."

"Rith" is one of those persons who carry happiness with them wherever they go, who never lose faith, and who can smile even in sorrow. Due to this fortunate personality, she has friends by the score, and it is not at all unusual to see "Rith" walk down the hill with three different men on the same day. Although Yeurith has never been on Student Exec., she has distinguished herself by being appointed head proctor of the "Bowery."

L'AGENDA 1917

AMANDA LAURA WHITAKER

MILLVILLE, N. J.

Millville High School; Pi Beta Phi; General Science Course. "Mandy."

"How d'ye do, Miss Mandy?"

Whoever does not know Mandy
Has missed a lot of fun,
For she really is a dandy.
You'll find in the long run.

Whoever does not know Mandy
Will not know the reason why,
When she wants a special color
She doesn't use a "Dye."

Whoever does not know Mandy
Won't know, for no one knows,
Just how she makes her candy
Or why she's fond of clothes.

But we, who do know Mandy
Will advise her, and say—"But
When you go out walking
Steer clear of any 'Rut.'"

FRANK E. WILLIAMS

NANTICOKE

Nanticoke High School; Electrical Engineering Society; Nanticoke-Bucknell Club; Class Football, 2; Electrical Engineering Course. "Frank."

"Peace be with you and your pipe."

"What's this, a railroad engine?" "No, you are all wrong, that's only Frank Williams smoking his pipe." This question always occurs when Frank is seen, for he is never without his pipe. Next to his love for his pipe comes his love for playing pinochle. Drop in on him at any time and you will find him busy at a game. You may ask when he studies! He does not need to study for he is a shark. If we may judge from what he has done here, we can predict that he will be a noted Electrical Engineer.

ARTHUR ROLAND YON

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Atlantic City High School; West Jersey Academy;
Phi Kappa Psi; Class Basketball, 1; Class Baseball, 1, 2; Varsity Track, 1. "Brick," "Ott."

"He who tries will always succeed."

In "Brick" we find another of Atlantic City's populace who came to Bucknell to increase or rather develop his mental powers. And he has brain, too, even if it is be-capped with an abundance of "Brick" red hair. He is an ardent admirer of "Billy's" Organic. One can tell that by the manner in which he recites. As to his popularity, one has only to mention his name, even in Milton, and one has the key to any situation on hand. A long and prosperous future is our most sincere wish for Arthur.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore Class Poem

I've ramsacked every poem
And other volumes too,
But nothing ever printed
Can tell our praises due.

I've heard of Bucknell Authors
Of the present and the past,
But find their work of no avail
Since we have such a class.

No Freshman, Junior, Senior,
Nor Alumnae as well
Can write a fitting poem
And in it fully tell
All the praises and honor
Due the Sophomores of Bucknell.

L'AGENDA 1917

Sophomore Class History

YES, we have been Freshmen, but as the poet says, "There is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the ebb leads on to fortune." How true have these words been felt by the class of nineteen eighteen. In the great sea of college life our class has been a flagship for the fleet. There has been no voyage that seemed impossible but what we have successfully carried out. There has been no strait however narrow but what we have made entrance. There have been no shallows but what we have passed over without being stranded.

"Don't give up the ship" quoth Perry, but what is this in comparison to the memorable never-dying, never-fading, ever-living patriotic motto, "Push on the Ship." Are we pushers? Well, I guess. Twenty-seven to twenty-five (the result of the class scrap this year with the sophomores on top), shall remain fixed forever throughout the annals of history.

Are we pushers? Well, I guess, three to nothing—and as usual in favor of the class of nineteen eighteen. The glory of the gridiron likewise shall be recorded in the annals of history.

Have we kept our sworn allegiance to the Honor of Bucknell when we took it upon ourselves to keep that emblem of ignorance, freshness, dumbness, laziness, kiddishness, babyishness upon that little insignificant, round ball of solid ivory known in the language of a "Bucknellian" as the dome?

ARE WE PUSHERS? WELL, I GUESS.

FRESHMAN CLASS

L'AGENDA 1917

Freshman Class Poem

We have come, dear Bucknell, on a journey,—
A journey across your broad sea,
That across your broad ocean of learning,
We too some day anchored may be.
We have come from a sheltered harbor,
A harbor easy to sail,
To pit our strength with our fellowmen;
To weather every gale.

We hope for fair winds on our journey,
Fair winds that will guide us aright,
To lead toward that bright star of Knowledge
Till the port of Success heaves in sight.
For the days when the sea is the roughest,
May we ever look overhead;
And remember our aim is the highest—
“Labor omnia vincit” ’tis said.

L'AGENDA 1917

Freshman Class History

THE history of our Freshman year is one of which every member of the class of 1919 is proud.

To a football team which promises to develop one of the greatest that Bucknell has ever had, we contributed a majority of the players. To further increase interest in both college and class athletics, we organized the Freshmen Athletic Club: a precedent that we hope other Freshman classes will follow.

Although we were defeated in both the class scrap and the Sophomore-Freshman football game, yet the fighting spirit of our men won the respect of all Respect, for our class was increased by our abolishing the custom of damaging property by the painting of class numerals.

As students, and as participants in every phase of college life we have endeavored to work for the best interest of our class and our school, and we feel that the chief result of what we have done as a class has been to increase our loyalty to dear old Bucknell.

The Bucknell University School of Music

A BRIEF HISTORY

MUSIC was first taught at Bucknell by Melville Malcolm, and various teachers succeeded him until 1858 when Monsieur P. Theodore Held, a French artist took charge of the work. In 1864 Mons. Held's place was vacant, but he resumed his work in 1866. In 1867 Alexander M. Looes became Professor of Music. In 1869 Hernian F. Eberhardt took up the duties of Professor of Music.

In 1874 a separate teacher of vocal music was added, and it was called the Department of Music, but it remained under the supervision of the Institute. In 1888 Professor Elysee Aviragnet, A.M., took charge of the Music Department, when it became a separate school, one of the four departments of the University under the general direction of one president. In 1892 Professor Aviragnet received the degree of Doctor of Music. Upon the death of Dr. Aviragnet in 1908, Paul Stolz, who had been assistant director for several years, assumed Dr. Aviragnet's position and became the Director of the School of Music. At the present time there are 118 students enrolled in the School of Music.

Pupils' Recitals

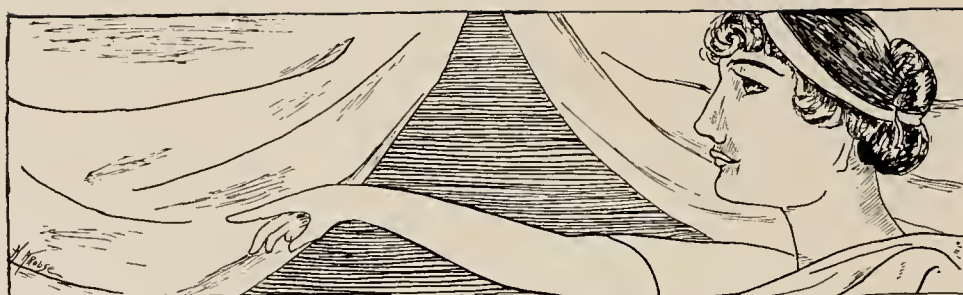

Public Pupils' Recitals are given monthly; and semi-public recitals are given by the pupils of the various teachers.

Oratorio

One of the heavier oratorios is given each year, during commencement week, and a lighter one some time during the year. Last commencement Mendelssohn's "St. Paul" was given to a large and appreciative audience. This year Handel's "Elijah" will be given. The soloists for the commencement oratorios are imported from New York.

Opera

On December 7th, 1915, the Operatic Society gave the "Mikado" to a large and well pleased audience. It was the best opera ever given, and insured the Operatic Society a permanent place among the institutions of the School of Music and the University.

L'AGENDA 1917

THE aim of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the year is to promote growth in Christian character among the students of Bucknell and to enlist them in Christian service, both in the college and in other communities. To accomplish this purpose the Association endeavors to extend its usefulness to all phases of Bucknell life. To get the students to take the principles of Jesus and apply them to their every day lives has been the aim of the Y. M. C. A. men. Bible classes were organized with this end in view using books especially adapted to the problems of college life. The Thursday night meetings were conducted with the same end in view. Outside speakers were brought in at least once a month with a message upon some vital life problem. Special meetings which were a source of much good to the college were held during the month of January, under the leadership of Dr. Raymond West, '89.

The performance of the daily task in the spirit of fidelity, a definite duty to the general life of the college community, and in the name of Jesus to live out on the campus and make real in the life of the college purity, justice, and truth are the things for which the Young Men's Christian Association is ever working.

L'AGENDA 1917

The Y. W. C. A.

THE Y. W. C. A. has tried this past year to deepen the spiritual life of the girls and broaden their outlook.

All through the year Eagles Mere was the goal held before the girls and six of them went to the conference. This gave them renewed vigor and a deeper, purer, love for Christ's people. Then eleven of our girls represented our association at the Student Volunteer Conference held at Gettysburg and they are now especially enthusiastic for the cause of missions.

We have had very good meetings this year with a good attendance and have endeavored to bring in, out of town speakers. Among them were Dr. West, Miss Esther Shields, Dr. Leslie, Mrs. Leslie and Miss Morris. Besides, we have had Dr. Phillips and Dr. Davis of our faculty.

Three of our members have become Student Volunteers and we hope for more before the year closes.

SENIOR COUNCIL

L'AGENDA 1917

The Senior Council

THE Senior Council is the representative governing body of Bucknell, to which all students look for justice. It is composed of a representative from each fraternity group and two men representing the non-fraternity group. During the year it has come in for its share of criticism, which in most cases has not been justifiable, since council acted only after careful consideration and with the best interests of the students in mind. The present Senior Council, throughout the whole year has been in a most precarious situation, partly because of new duties thrust upon it, and partly because of new duties undertaken by it.

Hazing was the first problem which the Council met and settled. The Council of the class of 1915 had done much to make hazing more humane. This year's Council continuing this policy where the preceding Council left off and carried this problem to a successful issue. Instead of the cruel treatment previously handed out to an offender a new element in hazing was introduced. One which would bring shame and humiliation, without physical torture. This element found expression in a most effective means of punishment namely the wearing of a white coat having painted on it in glaring letters the nature of the offence. That this had its good effects can be seen in the very few times that it has been worn and almost perfect obedience paid the rules.

The Budget System which was instituted by the previous council was left in the hands of this year's Council to dispose of. It was a new thing and consequently required much foresight and thought. By the hearty co-operation of each member in his own group, it was brought to a successful issue.

Last, but not least, the Senior Council has done much to discourage class scraps, between the Freshmen and Sophomores. Such affairs are mere relics of the medieval ages when men desired to hold combats involving life and death. Scraps have outgrown their age and are no longer fit for college sports. The Proc scrap was abolished last year. This year the painting of the railroad bridge was forbidden. If class spirit is lagging, we would recommend that more athletic contests be engaged in.

Women's Student Government Association of Bucknell University

HE Women's Student Government Association in the past year has made marked progress towards more firmly establishing a real spirit of operation among the students at the Women's College. In addition to the regular routine work, the association has been aiming to make itself an organ through which new activities and organizations may be presented to the girls, not only those activities in which the girls themselves are concerned, but those which concern the school as a whole.

This year has seen the appearance of a woman's paper, the fulfillment of a long felt need. "The Bucknell Women's College Journal" has indeed made its debutante to the world of college publication in a worthy fashion.

Among other goals toward which the association is now striving is the formulation of a budget for the women of the University, based on somewhat the same scale as the system now in vogue on the "Hill."

FOOTBALL

N first thought the football season of 1915 does not seem to have been very successful. But, when we consider the fact that only two B men remained in the squad, we conclude that the season was quite successful, and that our new coach, Johnson, turned us out an exceptionally good team for the available material.

The first team met was Bloomsburg Normal, B. U. emerging the victor, the score being 14-0. This game gave an excellent chance to try out the new material. Susquehanna was our next opponent and, as the team had not yet gotten together properly, we were held to a scoreless tie. Next we journeyed to Syracuse, where we held the heaviest team in the East to one touchdown.

Swarthmore came here the next Saturday and succeeded in kicking a field goal which lost us the game. The 'Varsity next took its regular trip to Cornell, where we received the worst beating of the year, the score being 41-0. A certain Charlie Barrett is held accountable for the large score.

The Indians were next met at Carlisle and held to a scoreless tie. Muhlenburg was the next opponent on Bucknell soil and they succeeded in duplicating the feat of Swarthmore and winning, 3-0. On Election Day the team took a trip to New York University and succeeded in holding them to a tie score of 3-3, part of the scrub team being used in the game. On the following Saturday the strong Navy team was completely surprised by the 'Varsity, who held them to a 13-3 score.

The next was our big game, that with Gettysburg at Harrisburg. Our opponents felt confident of winning this year, but it was the same old story. Owing to the whirlwind playing of the team and the large enthusiastic cheering section Bucknell was again the victor. Score, 16-7. The last game was with Lebanon Valley and was played on the athletic field on Thanksgiving Day, and was somewhat of a surprise, as for the third time during the year Bucknell was defeated by one field goal.

Much credit must be given to Coach Johnson and the team for the wonderful success of a season whose outlook at the start was not very promising.

HE baseball season of 1915 was a pronounced success, for out of a total of seventeen games played, the Orange and Blue won twelve and tied one. The most notable game of the season was that with Cornell in which the 'Varsity was the victor, the score being 4-3. Two games were played with Dickinson, the honors being divided, as each team won their home game.

In a series of three games with Gettysburg, one played here, one at Gettysburg and one at Shamokin, the 'Varsity succeeded in winning the second and last, while Gettysburg had to be content with the first. In our two games with Susquehanna, the honors were again divided, Bucknell winning at home, and Susquehanna at Selinsgrove.

The team had no trouble in taking two games from Milton, the 'Varsity having both games well in hand at all times. Among our other notable victories, during the season, were those over Albright, Chinese University, Mt. St. Marys and Bloomsburg Normal.

During the season only one game was lost on the home diamond, while three were won on foreign fields. The game with the Alumni, which resulted in a tie, only went six innings and a battery, for the Alumni, was furnished by the 'Varsity.

Thus ended one of the most successful baseball seasons the Orange and Blue has ever known, but it is to be hoped, that, with practically the same team, the season of 1915 will be eclipsed by that of 1916.

Basketball Review

THE basketball season of 1916 has been one of the most successful that the Orange and Blue has known for some time. Out of a total of sixteen games played the 'Varsity has won thirteen and lost three, only one of which was by a large score. Only one game was lost on the home floor, and that by only one point. Out of seven games played on foreign floors, five were won; a feat that has not been duplicated by a Bucknell basketball team for some time. During the season, the 'Varsity has handed decisive defeats to some teams, who in former years have been the victors in our contests with them. The three principal ones of these were Gettysburg, with whom we split even; Albright, whom we defeated twice and Susquehanna, who twice this year, went down to defeat at the hands of the 'Varsity.

State and Lebanon Valley succeeded in beating us, the latter by only one point. Both games were played on foreign floors. We also took Bloomsburg Normal, Muhlenburg, Ursinus and Mt. St. Marys into camp, beating them all by good margins.

Thus closes a season of basketball, of which everyone connected with, or interested in Old Bucknell can well be proud. However, we are in hopes that another season will see the College on the Hill represented by a team, which any of its opponents will be unable to defeat.

L'AGENDA 1917

ONSIDERED from the standpoint of meets won, the track season of 1915 was not very much of a success. The 'Varsity participated in three meets and made a very credible showing in all of them. The four teams met were Lehigh, Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall and Gettysburg.

The first meet was held at Lehigh and the 'Varsity had to compete with a better coached and trained team and thus were defeated by the score of 80-29.

In the second meet, the Triangular Meet, held at Carlisle, Bucknell met Dickinson and Franklin and Marshall, and our boys took third place running up a score of 29 points.

The third and last meet was with Gettysburg and was held on the athletic field. This proved to be an exceptionally interesting meet and one in which the team showed up remarkably well, the score being 60-52 in favor of Gettysburg. In this meet Butt, '16, our veteran two-miler, came within six seconds of equaling the record made by his brother, who holds the Bucknell record for that event.

Three minor meets were held here during the season: The Novice meet in the early spring, the Interclass meet, which was won by the Freshmen, and the Sophomore-Freshman meet, which this year was especially interesting as is shown by the score. Sophomores 51, Freshmen 61.

While this season was not very successful, we are in hopes that with an older and more experienced team and a better schedule the season of 1916 will be one of which we can be justly proud.

Tennis Review

THE tennis season of 1915 was a pronounced success, although we won but one of the matches. When Captain Malin chose his team, by a system of tryouts, he selected as his team-mates, Harris, Painter and Geary. These four fellows gave State the battle of their life here on May 14, and State won only by a close score. On May 28, at Carlisle, Malin and Harris won over the teams representing Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, and Lebanon Valley. Last term a tourney, in which students and professors participated, was won by Harris. However successful this season, with an older and more experienced team and more matches, we expect to have a much better season next year.

THE STATE MATCH

Malin and Harris, B., defeated Jones and Smedley, S.
McCance and Reed, S., defeated Painter and Geary, B.
Smedley, S., defeated Painter, B. 6-0, 6-1.
McCance, S., defeated Malin, B., 6-2, 6-4.
Harris, B., defeated Jones, S., 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.
Reed, S., defeated Geary, B., 6-1, 3-6, 6-0.

Tribute to the Athletes of 1917

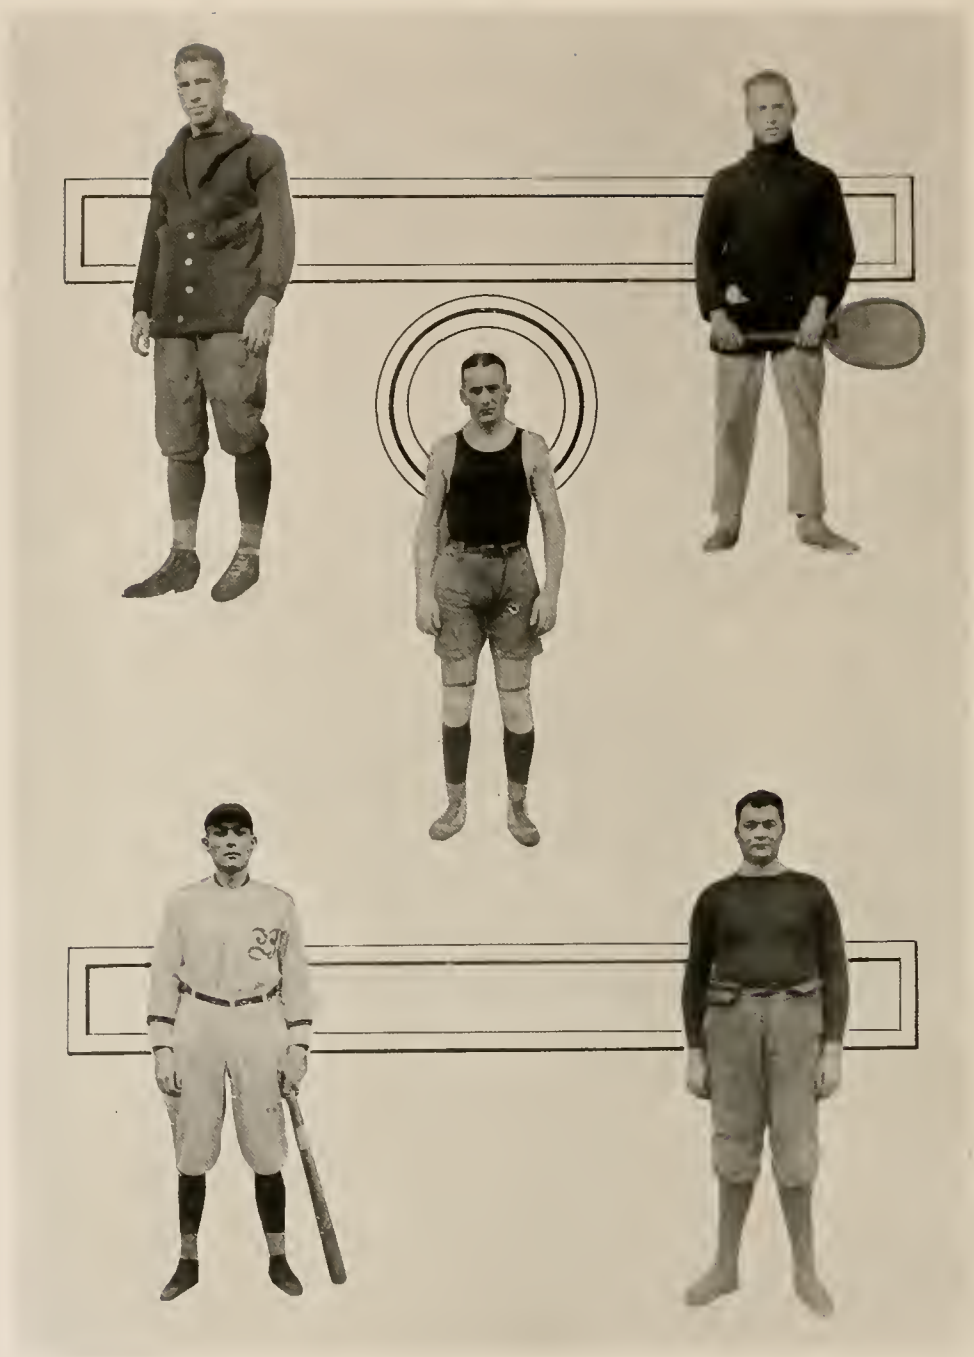

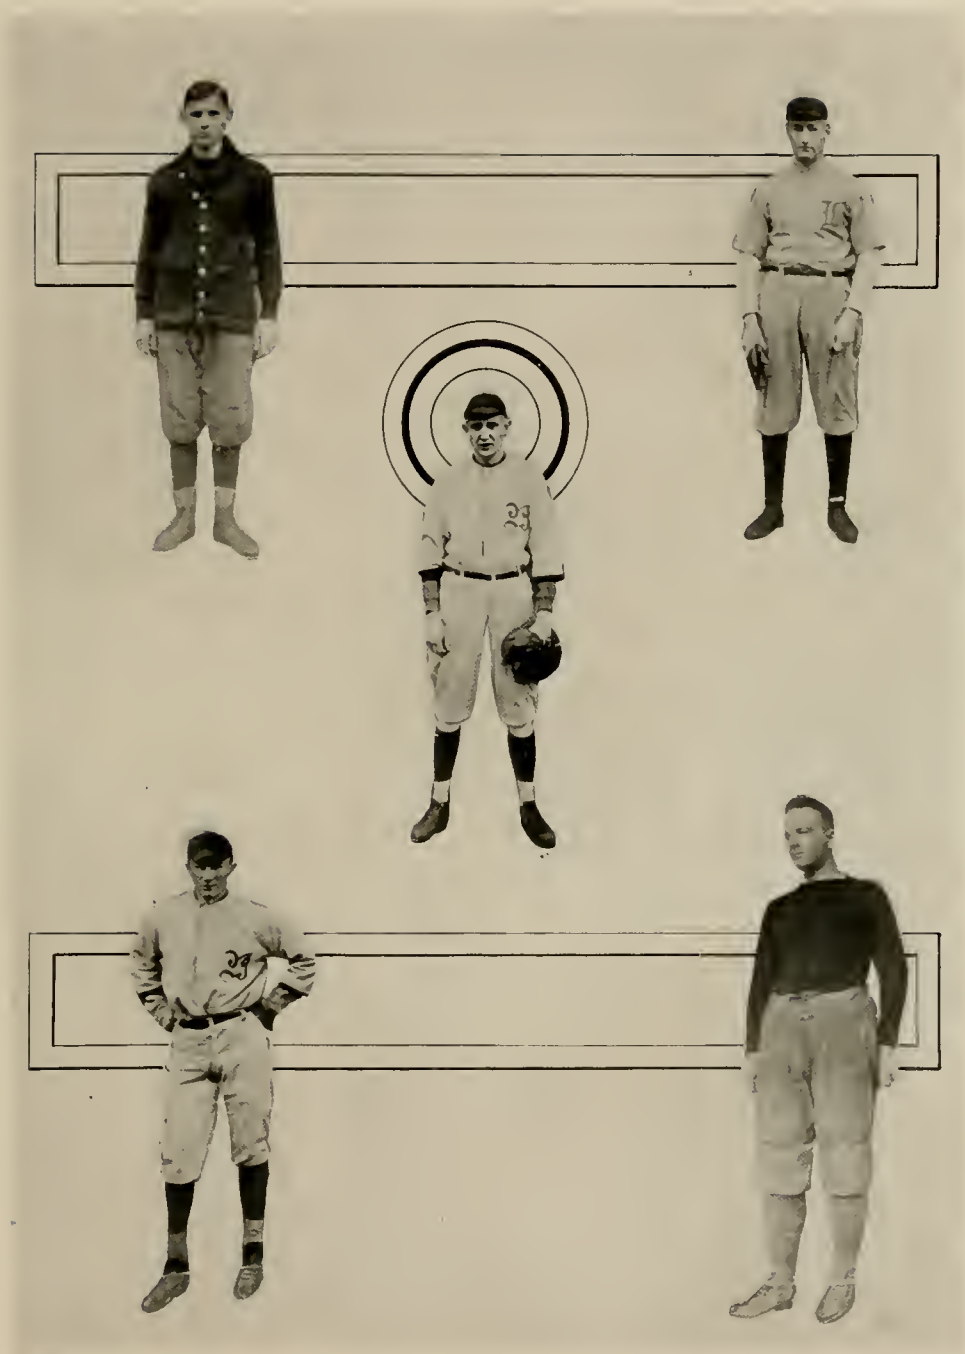

THE Class of 1917 extends to you, her athletes, a most hearty and admiring recognition of the services you have rendered to your College and to your class. Never has class spirit made you too narrow-minded to place your abilities at the disposal of the University; and never has your zeal for your Alma Mater blotted out from your mind the needs of those with whom you spend four years of College life—your classmates.

The 'Varsity has felt the benefit of 1917's athletes in all phases of athletic activity. In football, basketball, baseball, track, and tennis, the class of 1917 has given material to the college of which she is proud. Both to those who have served as 'varsity men and to those who by their unselfish devotion and perseverance as reserves have helped to maintain the high standard of the team's efficiency, we offer this tribute of gratitude and admiration. Your steady devotion and service to the welfare of the teams have won for yourselves and for your class an enviable place in the scroll of Bucknell's athletic honor. The successes you have helped to gain for your college have been many, but your success has not caused laxity; and an unbroken halo of glory has been the reward. When failure came, you were not discouraged; but by your perseverance have retrieved the losses by greater victory. In success or defeat one characteristic has marked your athletic endeavors—the principle of clean sportsmanship.

The greatest honor to the class has been a reflection of the glory of the 'Varsity which represents her Alma Mater. But added to this is the satisfaction that in interclass sports, whether winning or losing, you have always maintained for your class a record of good clean play and hard fought battles.

And finally, whether in 'Varsity or class games, on the gridiron, on the diamond or on the basketball floor, on the track or on the tennis court, you have succeeded in inculcating in athletics at Bucknell the principles of manliness which are summed up in the words, devotion, perseverance, fairness.

The College on the Hill

Apologies to H. W. Shortfellow ✓

On the shores of Susquehanna,
By the cool and sparkling water,
By the clear and running water,
Stood the "College on the Hill"
Here the youths and laughing maidens,
Sturdy youths and fair young maidens,
Came from far to gather knowledge
At this "College on the Hill"
And the Profs were wise in wisdom,
Very wise and filled with knowledge,
Learned in all the lore of ages,
Were these wise Profs on the hill.
One was learned in mathematics,
Learned in all the different branches
Of the higher mathematics,
And they call him little Drum.
One was very tall and slender,
Very thin and very stately;
He was learned in ancient history,
Knew the tales of all the ages,
Knew the kings and ruling houses
Of the kingdoms long departed
Of the people torn asunder
By the strife of former ages.
Still another Prof was Riemer
It was he who taught the German,
Taught the German and the Spanish,
Taught the Verbs and Conjugations,
Used by peoples o'er the water.

L'AGENDA 1917

"Cuts" were his abomination;
Only work was his delight
And the youths and laughing maidens,
Who were trying to learn German
Had to study day and night.
Then there was wise Prof. Simpson.
He, it was who taught Mechanics,
Taught the dread and awful physics;
And whene'er he talked or lectured,
All the students in his classes
Simply looked and gaped in awe.
And there was another Prof at college
Widely loved and much admired;
He was filled with woodland lore,
Knew the subtle laws of nature,
Knew the habits of the wood folk
How they built their homes in summer,
Where they hid themselves in winter
Knew their ways and all their habits.
Still another Prof was "Billy,"
Ruler of the Laboratory
Where they generate the odors,
Make the worst of all the odors,
Make the sickening awful odor, H₂S.
Greatest of the Profs is "Prexy,"
Best beloved and most admired.
He is ruler of the college,
Of that home of lore and knowledge
Of that grand and dear old college
Standing there, upon the hill.

The Wrathful Neighbor

This is Mary, modest and true,
Here's to show what she can do.
Latin, German and History of Ed,
Which sometimes she works out
When the rest are all in bed.
And could you believe that one so small
Could make any trouble for her neighbor at all?

Well a long story must be cut to a reasonable size,
This year came to us a dean very wise,
Who detested the talk and noise next door
And decided to stop it even by war
So Mary was campussed for a few nights or more,
'Till appeased was the wrath of the one next door.

Lab-Oratory

THE STUDENT OF THE EARTHWORM

(With apologies to the Author of "The Victor of Marengo")

HE biologist was sitting in the lab. Before him lay the dissecting tray. He took a worm, laid it down, moved the tray and arranged it again. "Now," said he, "I will cut it right there." "Where, sir?" said his partner. "Right from the pharynx down to the crop. I will make the incision, open it out and put in the pins. Then I'll count all the segments, number them off and see the internals." And the scissors of the student cut into the skin. But fate spoiled the biologist's scheme and the well-meant incision became a terrible gash.

Just as the gash was made, Prof. Stewart came quickly across the room with his own pointed scissors, and stopped at the table where sat the dissector. Ashamed in his presence sat the culprit, a sophomore, who had just entered the course and had not learnt to use scissors and scalpel.

Prof. Stewart spoke to him: "Try it again." The boy did not stir. "Young man, try it again." The boy grasped his scissors, looked upward and said: "O sir! I don't know how. 'Little We' never taught me that. But I could learn from you. Oh! I could learn from you so that I'd never gash again! I'd cut as you'd say on a Lumbricus, and I'd cut the Metridium and I'd cut again through the Planaria. But Oh! If you'd show me here!"

Prof. Stewart turned to the student. "You have gashed it. Now, what will you do?" "Do? Try again! There's a chance to cut skillfully yet! Come scissors! Cut the skin, cut into the cuticle a careful incision." And a moment later the point of the scissors, directed by the hand of the student, and in accordance with the Prof.'s directions, dived into the cuticle. It pierced the cuticle into the muscle: from the pharynx down to the crop, and there it stopped! The incision was not straight, but the hand never faltered. As the scissors came out, the internals were revealed still untouched by the point of the scissors, as over the mouth and oesophagus, over the crop and the gizzard, it had cut its way to the stomach.

Today he looks back at his drawings and lauds the sketch that portrayed such a careful incision, but he forgets that his first attempt failed and that Prof. Stewart's aid alone gave him the victory.

Clouds

Filmy, fantastic, and fair,
Begotten of sunbeams and air,
Forms of gay fancy arise ;
Radiant column and dome,
Surging from fairy-light foam,
Picture the summer time skies.

Broodings bizarre, without worth,
The dreams of our beautiful Earth.
A doze in the shivering sun --
These float in glittering shreds,
Zephyrs untangle the threads,
Shuttle-wise vibrate and run.

Delicate fabric they spin,
The dreamings of earth woven in,
Distilled from her darling desire ;
Cloaked by her own bootless breath,
Thus do they shield her from death,
Death by the sun's ardent fire.

Man, If he lived in the glare,
Of Truth unveiled, must despair,
Die in the brain-blinding ray ;
Visions like mists, spread a cope,
Hearts' distillation of Hope,
Blessing, relieving, his day.

An Ode to Grippe

Sing a song of winter,
Weather's cold and dry.
Wake up in the mornin' feeling mighty spry.
When!
Suddenly you sneeze
Then you start to wheeze,
Get pains from head to knees.
That's Grippe!

Sing a song of winter,
Weather's cold and damp.
Wake up in the mornin', in your back a cramp.
When!
Your ear begins to skip,
In your throat you have the pip,
And your lips begin to rip.
That's Grippe!

Sing a song of winter,
Feelin' on the Fritz.
Wake up in the mornin' with chilblains in your "mits."
Well!
You think you're gettin' ill,
To the doctor, go you will
Later get a nice large bill;
Also Grippe!

Keep your throat wrapt up quite tight,
Wear your rubbers day and night,
Go to bed without a light,
In winter.
If you follow out this rule
Send us by the Medic school
By this ruse the Grippe you'll fool
By Jingo!

A Commencement Exercise

For seventeen boys. (Each boy, as he comes forward to recite, holds up a large letter made from pasteboard and covered with Orange and Blue paper.)

FIRST BOY—(Tall grandfatherly youth, holds letter B in right hand, and U in left.)

B. U—Bucknell University.

The greatest thing ever!
You'd ne'er find one like it,
Though you search forever.
And Previe's, the man
Who has helped make it great;
My name is well known
Throughout our whole State.

SECOND BOY—(Very tall. Points impressively with his long forefinger.)

C.—Stands for Colestock.

That is my name;
As a joker and fisher,
Great is my fame.

THIRD BOY—(A little German boy, with down on his upper lip slightly larger than an eyebrow.)

K.—Meint Karl der Grosse.

Ein sehr berühmter mann;
Wenn ich nicht lehren und stürmen kann,
So glaube ich niemand kann.

FOURTH BOY—(A New Jersey boy, the picture of glowing health.)

N.—Stands for Nelson.

Biology I teach
Sanitary Science my lecture
And hygiene I preach.

FIFTH BOY—(Short, stout boy.)

E.—Stands for Enoch. (Makes a courtly bow.)

Most times I'm called "Pop"; (sweeping gesture.)
As a teacher of English, (brings hands together.)
I'm sure on the top. (Points upward.)

L'AGENDA 1917

SIXTH BOY—(A sober looking youth.)

L.—Stands for Lindemann.

I'm a sober young man,
And in strength of Materials,
I'll make you work all you can.

SEVENTH BOY—(Learned, wise looking, spectacled youth, wearing a coat of many colors.)

L.—Stands for Lectures.

Where the students congregate,
To sleep or write letters,
At a two-forty rate.

EIGHTH BOY—(A tall, spiritually-minded youth, with a dimple in his chin.)

U.—Means Utopia.

A noble ideal,
Which Dr. Phillips at Bucknell,
Will help to make real.

NINTH BOY—(A stupid, dull, vacant-eyed boy, also wearing a coat of many colors; the supplementary twin of Lectures.)

N.—Stands for Note Books.

Filled with all kinds of scraps—
Gibson heads, game scores,
And a few notes, perhaps.

TENTH BOY—(A very young boy, often mistaken for a baby.)

I.—Stands for Ignorance.

Which Stewart will dispel;
All your old foggy ideas,
I'll scatter pell-mell.

ELEVENTH BOY—(Just an ordinary boy.)

V.—Stands for Vacuum.

That's what we find,
In most of our students,
Instead of a mind.

L'AGENDA 1917

TWELFTH BOY—(Medium-sized boy, with a placid smile and soothing voice.)

E.—Stands for Ephie.

In the University Book Store,
I put into practice
My Economic lore.

THIRTEENTH BOY—(A noble-looking youth wearing a toga.)

R.—Stands for Rockwood.

Dignified dean,
In Latin and Sports,
My interest is keen.

FOURTEENTH BOY—(A short, matter-of-fact boy.)

S.—Stands for Simpson.

Brusque and severe,
My Physics Course
Inspires great fear.

FIFTEENTH BOY—(A very lady-like youth, moving in a slow, dignified fashion, his aesthetic soul filled with the contemplation of the beautiful.)

I.—Means Inspiration.

Dr. Martin gives that,
When you ask for a book
And I chat and I chat.

SIXTEENTH BOY—(A short, thick-set youth of careless appearance with deep-set eyes and long hair.)

T.—Stands for Taylor.

Who once in football starred;
Now he teaches Freshman Maths
And keeps them on their guard.

SEVENTEENTH BOY—(A tall Mark Anthony, with a deep, oratorical voice.)

Y.—Stands for Yell.

Which is given with zest,
Bucknell forever,
The greatest and best.

L'AGENDA 1917

Has It Gripped You?

A germ has come to call
La Grippe is on her card
She's rightly named, for
When she grips
She hangs on mighty hard.

She is a social favorite
She's intimate with most,
So many of us she has bit,
She must be fond of toast.

A book I took and sat me down to read,
My friends trooped in, each with a case to plead.
But I, engrossed, read on, no voice I heard,
Or answered any plea with my word—
And they went on and left me all alone,
I hardly realized that they had gone.
At last I tossed the thrilling book aside
And said, "This kind of stuff I can't abide."
The room seemed strangely empty, dull and drear—
The sounds I listened for I could not hear!
Life, which I'd searched inside the book to find,
Had come, and gone, while I was deaf and blind.

HINTS TO HARROWED HOUSEWIVES

The most convenient way to open eggs—Some advise a can opener but we think an ax is much handier.

When the fire will not burn and the cake in the oven is beginning to fall, you will find that a little gasoline will bring it up wonderfully.

Do not ruin your fingers by using a hammer. A slipper is much handier and tacks always respond more quickly to it.

Marble Cake—Take a quart of the finest assorted glass marbles, a cup of plaster-of-paris, two teaspoonfuls of lamp-black and mix these thoroughly with a shovel and hoe. Bake the mixture in a brick oven for two days and a night. Then ice it with six grains of quinine and one pound of congratulated sugar heated to a syrupy constituency and spread on while hot. Blast into small pieces before serving. (Note—If cake is too heavy, bore in several holes with a two-inch auger and insert lighted candles.)

You will find that cold cream is an excellent substitution for butter or lard to grease the fudge pans. Cold cream adds to the fudge a delightful flavor which is otherwise lacking.

How to make sonny's pants last—We advise making his coat and vest first.

Nut Cake—To one package of Hecker's self-rising buckwheat flour, add one cup of Rough-on-Rats, one-quarter pound of the finest axle grease, and a dozen of the poorest Ford jokes. Mix thoroughly with a nutmeg grater and bake in a cold oven. Serve with a tennis racquet.

A sure cure for Rheumatism—If you are troubled with this dread disease do not go to the doctor but simply thrust the affected part through the window and you will find that the pane is all gone.

L'AGENDA 1917

Inconsistency. Thy Name is:—Marks

Did I get "A"?
Now, goodness me,
How can that be?
I tell you true,
I bluffed it through
The whole term's way.

It can't be "C".
O, how I boned,
And raved and moaned—
I worked to get
That mark, you bet—
O my, O me.

And this is "B".
I never shirk
The hardest work.
I always try
To satisfy,
And then—a "B".

L'AGENDA 1917

Scintillate, scintillate, globule vivific;
Fain would I fathom thy nature specific!
Loftily poised in ether capacious,
Strongly resembling a gem carbonaceous.

N. B.—This effort was submitted to Reich, '17, who made the following criticism:

Literary aspirants should religiously eschew polysyllabic orthography. The philosophical and philological substructure of this principle is ineluctible. Excessively attenuated verbal symbols inevitably induce unnecessary complexity, and consequently exaggerate the obfuscation of the mentality of the peruser. Conversely, expressions which are reduced to the furthestmost minimum of simplification and compactness, besides rendering realistic verisimilitude, constitute a less onerous handicap to the reader's perspicacity. Observe, for instance, the onomatopoetic, interjectional, monosyllabic utterances, especially when motivated under strenuous, emotional circumstances. How much more impressive is their euphonious pulchritude than the pretentious and preposterous pomposity of elongated verbiage!

The Babies' Rattle

Ain't got no pep:
That's not our rep!
We're there you bet;
For we're Sophomores!

They can't haze right?
Just watch some night:
You'll see some sight,
For we're Sophomores!

Can't win no fame?
We've won each game;
And they were just tame,
For we're Sophomores!

What'll they ever be?
You come and see.
We'll get our degree,
When we're Seniors!

The Humming Bird and the Flower

I.

Upon a hillside clad in green—
Afar from human habitude,
Where Calm and Quiet reign supreme
In melancholy solitude;
Where sunny rays in brightly beam
Are broken by the shady wood,
And where a deep and placid stream
Doth cast a sad and gloomy mood—
A lonely little flower grew,
Tho' lonely, still so gladly too:
So fresh and bright with morning dew,
Of tender prime and brilliant hue,
As constant as the summer's sun,
And happy as the day is long:
Folding in sleep when night doth come,
Living life as a joyous song!

II.

'Twas in the blooming month of May—
When all of life is hope and cheer,
And every moment of the day
Brings pain or pleasure, joy or fear;
When flowers innocent obey
The lure of natural creature's leer:
Tender, trusting, tinted, gay:
Sensitive season of the year—
A humming bird so fleet and light,—
So little and in hue so bright,

L'AGENDA 1917

So smooth, yet rapid in its flight—
Fast flit about in merry glee
From flow'r to flow'r in gaiety
Over the hills and o'er the lea,
Sipping from their tender hearts
Their sweetest; then from them departs!

III.

The day the loveliest of the May,
The sun shone bright in clear blue sky,
The humming bird it made its way
O'er hill and plain in mid air high.
It stopped where flows a placid stream,
It stopped where grows a lonely flower,
A lovely place all clad in green,
A shady place where tall trees tower.
The bird into the bower flew,
Where all alone the flower grew:
Sweet Love its lonesome life first crossed,
But lo! Alas. "Love's Labors Lost!"
The sweetest from the flower's heart,
The flower's tender youthful heart,
It sipped and then it took depart;
To ne'er return, it took depart!

IV.

The flower sadly drooped its head
As all its petals in tears it shed,
In lonely grief it sadly said:
"The world once lovely, now is dead."

L'AGENDA 1917

The Adventurous Maiden

A. FABLE IN SLANG

(With Apologies to George Ade.)

Once upon a time there was a femme, who was very nifty and always looking for excitement. One magnesia, balmy day in October she eased her dad's fliver from the domicile wherein it had reposed, sinuously, for many moons, and gathering together a gang of brother and sister adventurers, she yanked forward the brake lever and the old tub bit the dust.

After hieing hither, thither and yon, drinking in the ozone and other things, and admiring the back-to-nature stuff; the internal workings started going on the Fritz. The old engine wheezed and puffed like Aunt Til's cat that has the asthmay; so after a council of war, the Oskar was headed toward the nearest burg, also to find a Fliver hospital.

Having found a garage* she requested that a nut and bolt specialist give the bunch of junk the once over. This he did only too well, but after an hour's work he decided that all it needed was a couple of yards of gas and a couple of spools of oil. After delivering this ultimatum, he held out his grimy paw and separated her from a wad of skin-plasters, large enough to choke T. R., whereupon the gay party once again started to cleave the atmosphere.

And was the femme dismayed? Not on your cherry tree; just the opposite. And to show that her heart was still in the right place she bossed up the spark to about 95 degrees in the shade, and let the old bus do its darndest.

When suddenly, in trying to round a corner, shaped like a doughnut with the cramps, things began to happen; for the wheels were tired and refused to do our heroine a good turn. With that the bus returned to its original state by turning turtle. By its so doing, the occupants were scattered over the surrounding landscape, and were seen making use of the soft spots at hand and rubbing sore spots acquired. Ah! but our doughty adventuress was not squelched, for after freeing her articulation from its recently acquired extraneous substances, she was heard to exclaim: "It's a dem good car for the shape it's in."

MORAL—Don't make love to your girl while out carriage riding, 'cause horses carry tails; or, get acquainted with your engine and it will let you use its spark plug, which is without a caudal appendage.

*French for a "cave of robbers."

Parody on "Crossing the Bar"

Snowfall and the frozen rain,
And ice enough to kill!
And may there be no laughter of the sane,
When I fall down the hill.

But such a hush as coming seems sublime,
Too unreal for credit and belief,
When that which pulls me down into the slime,
Fills my heart with grief.

A slip, a slide and then I fell,
And after that the woe!
And may there be no sad farewell
When down the hill I go.

And when from out my bourne of time and place,
The "kids" may hear me bawl:
I hope to see some kindly face,
When on the hill I fall.

L'AGENDA 1917

The Making of a Classic

Time—The poetic hour of three P. M.

Place—Reading room of the Library.

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

AMY - - - - - A One Time Class Poetess
ED. - - - - - The Literary Editor of a former L'Agenda

SCENARIO—As the curtain rises, a long reading table is seen in the center of the stage, covered with books and magazines. A girl and a boy are seated at the table, discouragingly studying several sheets of much bescribbled foolscap.

ED.—Well if this isn't a mess! Anyone ought to be hanged for writing poetry like this.

AMY—Don't call that poetry. It's—it's rotten. Here, let me see it.

(She studies the paper a moment, then reads):

AMY—If I had some of Shakespeare's art,
To sing thy praises dear '18,
Oh, that my lute had no sad rifts;
To spoil this Freshman dream.

ED.—Stop right there. If any one thinks that sort of poetry is going into our L'Agenda—I say, can't you write them a class poem? I suppose they will have to have one of some sort or another.

AMY—Well, hardly! The poetess might be highly offended if this were not printed. Let's try and patch it up. (Musingly.) She says she wrote it in a hurry, and it surely sounds that way.

(Amy laughs ruefully.)

ED.—In a rather big hurry, I should say. But if we are going to fix it, let's start in. That first verse is "bum." Can't we change the beginning?

(He opens a mammoth dictionary.)

L'AGENDA 1917

AMY—(Dreamily)—In just a minute—
If I had some of Shakespeare's art,
If I had—

ED.—You don't want "art" on the end there. It don't sound well with
"rifts."

AMY—Maybe we had better change "rifts."

ED.—Yes, of course! We can change "rifts" lots easier. Let me see—art, heart, smart, tart, dart, part. Now we might put "part" in there.

AMY—(Irritably)—It isn't in his hair, silly, it's in his lute. "Art" will have to depart. I see that plainly. Oh, wait a moment—riffs, sniffs, tiffs, lifts.

ED.—(Running his finger down the dictionary as he reads)—Gherkin, ghost, giant, giaour, gibbet, gibbons, giddy, gift, gig, gift, gift, gift! That's what we want—Gifts!

AMY—To be sure!

If I had some of Shakespeare's gifts
To sing thy praises dear '18!
Oh would my lute had no sad rifts
To spoil —

ED.—Hold on a minute! Why can't the first line start the same as the third?

AMY—Of course, how stupid of me!

Oh, had I some of Shakespeare's gifts
To sing thy praises dear '18!
Oh, would my lute had no sad rifts
To spoil this Freshman dream!

I don't seem to care for the dream part—what else would rhyme with eighteen?

L'AGENDA 1917

ED.—(Turns to a dictionary)—Just a moment! Gloom, glory, gloss. Never! Hunger, hunks, hunt, inflict, inflorescence, influence. Oh, no! Lead, leaf, league, lean. There's a word, lean. Eighteen-lean. Sure, they rhyme!

AMY—(Sarcastically)—Yes, they rhyme! But wouldn't it sound too lovely for anything to say, "To spoil my Freshman lean?"

ED.—Well you don't have to say that. Change the whole thing around.

AMY—All right. How?

ED.—

Oh, would my lute had no sad rifts
To—to—for on it I must lean.

How's that?

AMY—It might be worse. But it sounds just like my "kid" sister's poetry.

ED.—Thanks, you fix it then, if you can.

AMY—If I can, is right! I never saw such a mess of a poem. Now:

Oh, would my lute had no sad rifts
For on it I must lean—
To spoil my Freshman dream.

I rather think they both sound about the same so far as poetry goes.

ED.—(Disgustedly)—Oh, let it go then. It sounds just like the Freshmen anyway. How about the other stanzas?

AMY—I'm tired of writing poetry. Let's do them another time.

Curtain.

L'AGENDA 1917

Ode to the Sem. Brigade

Half a step, half a step,
Half a step downward:
All from the parlour of light
 Crept the Sem. fussers.
"Forward the Sem. brigade,
Make for the door," she said
And from the parlour of light
 Crept the Sem. fussers.

"Forward the Sem. brigade"
Was there a man obeyed?
Not though the fussers knew
 Last bells were ringing.
Theirs still to make reply
Their still to say Good-Bye"
Theirs still to look and sigh.
Down from the parlour of light
 Crept the Sem. fussers.

Gazers to the right of them
Gazers to the left of them
Gazers up above them
 Looked on and giggled.
Stormed at with laugh and jeer,
Boldly they do not fear,
Though the last bell they hear:
Down from the parlour of light
 Crept the Sem. fussers.

When can their glory fade!
Oh, the long time they stayed!
 All the Sem. wondered Honor the call they made
Honor the Sem. brigade
 Noble Sem. fussers.

Bucknell Glee Club vs. Mifflinburg Nine

Despite the hard hitting of the Mifflinburg Nine, the Glee Club came off with colors flying by a home run in the last stanza. The Bucknell boys were on the field primed for battle when the Mifflinburg Nine came stringing in one by one. The Glee Club rooting section outnumbered Mifflinburg.

The struggle begins. Pedigo grasps the stick and faces the pitcher; first pitch too high and Pedigo swings in vain. Second pitch more successful and Pedigo cracks it for fair. Reaches first base. Snyder up. Hits and slides into second base. One run. Germer, Estler, Soars out in order. Applause.

Mifflinburg makes three hits but cannot score. The Glee Club gets everything knocked at them.

No runs for the Glee Club in the next three stanzas. Mifflinburg takes advantage of the blocked bawl and takes two bases. Bunt through pitcher's box brings first run. Slight applause.

Stage set for final stanza. Sprenkle reaches first. Takes long slide for second and breaks from bone. Carried off. James pinches. Jeffery up. Sends bawl over center field bleachers. Home run.

Reception after game. Glee Club returns.

Exploits of Ella-Jne

Film 1. A sunny sylvan scene,
A flock of semite nymphs astray;
Among them like a very queen
Our heroine in bright array.

A smooth broad water comes to view,
Our queen with courage fine but rash,
Attempts a Psyche stunt to do:
Climbs on a jutting board—kersplash!

Film 2. A modern railway train
Is running rather late,
We see our Bucknell bunch again
Unconscious of approaching fate.

They do her wrong to tease her so.
She does not hate the men.
She proves it, for in sight of—Oh!
Her hand on mouth she lays—and then!

Wouldn't It Seem Strange If

The college clock were correct?

The chain were cut for the girls so that they wouldn't have to crawl under on their way to chapel?

Lights were in the library so that we might study there in the evening?

The biological "stiffs" should wander about some day?

We got free mail service to the hill?

Fussing were not permitted in the library?

The girls attended their respective class meetings?

Dr. Martin should miss chapel some morning?

The fourth floor of West College were noise proof?

Sanders should smile or speak to someone?

Vernie Noll should flunk in German?

The sem parlors were devoid of cosies?

Dr. Perrine forgot to say "Don-chu-see"?

The Lewisburg churches would arrange services to accommodate students?

Everyone turned out for chapel some morning?

The war seems to be a contest between "K of K" and "K und K".

Heard Around the Place

FRANCES SILBERSTEIN (in the jam at the Baptist reception): I don't know what kind of hair tonic this fellow uses, but it tastes fierce.

MINK: Isn't it funny about modern dancing, though?

SQUIBB: How do you mean?

MINK: Why, when waltz music starts you don't hesitate; but as soon as you begin to dance you hesitate.

"SHORTY": What are you going to do tonight?

SWITZER: Nothing, what are you doing?

"SHORTY": Nothing.

SWITZER: Who else will play?

DONALDSON: I'm going to quit smoking.

SHIPMAN: You haven't the will power.

DONALDSON: The deuce I haven't. Why! I've quit four times already this month.

BERTIN (philosophizing as usual): Fame is a high ladder, with grease on every rung.

And again: Any man can talk himself into trouble, but it takes a lawyer to talk him out.

"FRANKIE": Say, Bake, what's an echo?

BAKER: An echo, Frankie, is the only thing that can cheat a woman out of the last word.

L'AGENDA 1917

REX: I woke up last night with the feeling that my gold watch was gone. The impression was so strong that I got up to look.

JANE: Well, was it gone?

REX: No; but it was going.

G.: Do you love me, dear?

H.: Dearly, sweetheart.

G.: Would you die for me?

H.: No, my pet, mine is an undying love.

SPRENKLE (coming out of the bank with a one dollar bill in his hand):
Say, Swope, where can I get this changed?

Charity

If you have an old lead dime,
 Pass it on!
Do not fuss and waste your time.
 Pass it on!
You may feel real mean, it's true;
But in just a week or two
It will come right back to you.
 Pass it on!

L'AGENDA 1917

Professor !

DR. HARRIS (in psychology): Now, the striking characteristic of a mosquito is the "proboscis."

PROF. STEWART: The chief difference between man and woman is that man has to look in twenty pockets to find one thing, while a woman has to look in one pocket to find twenty things.

DR. RIEMER: When you fool a woman you have to get up early in the morning.

DR. PERRINE (discussing Gray's Elegy): Mr. Wilson, what do you think the poet meant when he said:

"The cock's shrill clarion or the echoing horn
No more shall rouse them from their lowly bed?"

MR. WILSON: I suppose he was referring to a passing automobile.

PROF. STEWART: My furnace is quite a dissipator; it both smokes and goes out at night.

Dr. Perrine, after addressing the College Bible Class meets Judge Johnson outside.

JUDGE: Doctor, you must have given it to them this morning, they look so serious.

DR. PERRINE: Yes, Judge, can't you smell it in the air?

PROF. RHOADES: This engine will develop seventy horse power without a vibration.

KEPPLE: Gee! How much with one?

PROF. LINDEMAN: Well, Donaldson, are you trying to raise whiskers?

DONALDSON: No,—there's no water in East College.

PROF. LINDEMAN: Don't wash 'em off, shave them off.

PROF. OWENS: How do you purify sulphur?

(Banks wakes up suddenly and asks what was the question.)

BACHMAN (boy next to him): Heat it on a brick.

BANKS: You hit it with a brick.

DR. HAMBLIN: Now, let's see. I've forgotten what the last discussion was; but we'll return to it."

DR. PERRINE (discussing Gray's Elegy, and ignorant of the attitude of the class): Here we have a sleepy situation.

ANTOZONE—WHAT IT IS

ANTOZONE is a disinfectant, deodorizer and germicide; it is odorless, colorless and non-poisonous.

ANTOZONE is used by and in all the leading hospitals, clubs, theatres, steamship lines, public buildings, colleges, universities, etc., etc. Also is universally endorsed by health boards of all the principal cities. Physicians throughout the country who have seen and used Antozone say that it is the most wonderful disinfectant of the age.

WHAT IT DOES

ANTOZONE does NOT replace foul odors by creating others equally objectionable. It can be used in sick rooms without its presence being known, except by the substitution of pure air for the foul odors that were present before its use.

Also manufacturers of Carbolozone Disinfectant, Pineozone Disinfectant, Soapozone Kleanser, Refineozone Disinfectant, Antozone Exterminine.
